Mr. NEGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I voted "no," Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Negley, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. NEGLEY. I voted "no," Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there appears to have been a general misunderstanding concerning the purport of this bill. I have had at least twenty-five or thirty members of this House tell me they misunderstood the purpose for which this bill stood. If the motion to reconsider is passed I will then move that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar and trust that between now and next week everybody will have had an opportunity to find out just what this bill does, because it benefits the farmer and the general merchant in your community instead of hurting them. I will ask you to vote to reconsider this bill and will then make a motion to place it on the postponed calendar and I am sure it will meet with your approval after you digest it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Session 1933 130th of the General Assembly

Vol. 15 HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 3, 1933. No. 41

SENATE

MONDAY, April 3, 1933

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this beautiful day, for the serenity of the sunshine and quietness of the mountains. We beseech Thee tonight that Thou wouldst give everyone of us true serenity of soul, that nothing can disturb, neither defeat nor victory may ruffle, the depths of our souls, that we may have freedom from anxiety, and that the storm, tempest and sunshine may leave the depths of our souls undisturbed in order that we may be the captains of our own souls.

We thank Thee tonight for the honor and for the great privilege that the presiding officer of this Senate had given to him. We thank Thee that a man of the serenity of life and evenness of disposition which is his blessed possession is in command of the soldiers of this State. We thank Thee for what he is and for what this State will be because he is in command. Bless him as presiding officer of this Senate tonight, and we rejoice with him in his honor and in the great honor he himself has bestowed on this Commonwealth.

All these blessings we ask in Thy Name. Amen.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF JOINT COMMITTEE ON LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SALUS offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Appropriations:

In the Senate, April 3rd, 1933.

Whereas, The work of the Legislature is always delayed at the beginning of each session by reason of the absence of any definite program or tentative plan of legislation to be considered at such session; and

Whereas, The work of every session of this Legislature would be curtailed, its length shortened and the public business greatly expedited if such plan or program could be presented to the members when the session convened; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that five members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and seven members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, are hereby constituted a Legislative Program Committee whose duty shall be to meet at least sixty days before the convening of the regular session next following their appointment, or at least thirty days prior to each special session during their continuance in office, and agree upon and submit to such regular or special session immediately after it convenes a tentative plan of legislation to be considered; and be it

Resolved, That such Legislative Program Committee shall accompany the plan agreed upon with drafts of bills intended to best carry into effect such program; and be it

Resolved, That whenever possible preliminary reports and copies of bills shall be forwarded to members of the Senate and House of Representatives before the convening of the session for the purpose of giving them opportunity to study the same; and be it further

Resolved, That necessary expenses of the members of the Committee and the cost of the preparation and distribution of its reports and copies of preliminary bills shall be provided for by an item to be inserted in the General Appropriation Bill.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 341 on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of an act approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 286), entitled "An act to provide for the health, safety and welfare of minors: By forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations, and under certain specified ages; by restricting their hours of labor, and regulating certain conditions of their employment; by requiring employment certificates for certain minors, and prescribing the kinds thereof, and the rules for the issuance, reissuance, filing, return, and recording of the same; by providing that the Industrial Board shall, under certain conditions, determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act; requiring that certain minors shall, during the period of their employment, attend certain schools, to be established as therein provided, and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and regulating the conditions of such attendance; authorizing the State Board of Education, in certain cases, to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act, and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school district wherein they are employed; requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted; providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, the attendance officers of school districts, and police officers; and defining certain presumptions in relation thereto; providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof, and establishing certain presumptions in relation thereto; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith," by changing the hours of labor permitted for minors under sixteen years of age and prescribing a daily lunch period of not less than forty-five minutes for such employed minors.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I hope the members will stop to consider what this bill is before they agree to this motion to send it back to the Judiciary General Committee.

This bill was thoroughly considered by the Committee on Judiciary General, and was voted out by a vote of thirteen to six, I believe. There is no mystery in this bill. It has no horns. Everybody in the Senate knows what the bill is. They know the contention of those who are for the bill. They know the contention of those who are against the bill. It is a bill permitting the working of children under the age of sixteen years for a longer period than forty-four hours a week, eight hours a day. There is no mystery to it. There are no horns to it. There is nothnig in the bill that is going to do anybody any harm, but there is a lot in the bill that is going to inure to the benefit of the children of Pennsylvania. If the children of Pennsylvania are of no interest to you or you are not interested in them, or you do not care what becomes of them, send the bill back to the slaughterhouse and let it be killed.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for, twenty-seven Senators voted in the affirmative and eighteen in the negative.

Whereupon, the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 352, (House Bill No. 298), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 676) entitled "An act providing for the burial of certain persons who have been or shall be soldiers sailors or marines designated as 'deceased service men' defining the term 'deceased service men' authorizing county commissioners to provide markers and burial plots for such deceased service men at the expense of such county in which they shall die or have a legal residence at the time of their death and providing for the burial of widows of soldiers sailors or marines" as amended broadening the definition of the term "deceased service men"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The fourth section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

Section 4 Any person who shall directly or indirectly apply or use any of said uncollected taxes to or for any purpose other than the Emergency Sinking Fund shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not exceeding One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) or imprisoned for a term not exceeding one (1) year or either or both in the discretion of the court

The fifth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 5 Each sinking fund created under the provisions of this Act shall be consecutively numbered and the amount thereof as well as the uncollected taxes shall be deducted from the gross indebtedness in ascertaining the net indebtedness of the school district

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I move to amend section 5 by striking out on page 3, line 14, the words "Each sinking fund created" and inserting in lieu thereof the words: "The trust fund and the emergency sinking fund covering each issue of bonds;" and by inserting in line 15, after the word "be," the words: "like numbered and in consecutive order."

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The sixth, seventh and eighth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to.

Section 6 The temporary emergency power hereby granted shall be in addition to the powers granted school districts to issue bonds and create indebtedness under existing law

Section 7 Any bonds issued under the provisions of this Act shall be in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution and the Act of April twentieth one thousand eight hundred seventy-four entitled "An act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities etc" as supplemented and amended and shall require the approval of the Department of Internal Affairs

Section 8 This Act shall become effective immediately upon its approval by the Governor and remain in force and effect only for five (5) years thereafter

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

An Act authorizing school districts to issue and sell bonds for certain purposes and for a certain period of time; providing for a trust fund and a sinking fund for the payment thereof; and defining the duties of the officers and members of the school board in relation to said funds, and fixing a penalty for the violation thereof.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11.59 P. M. until 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, April 4, 1933.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, April 3, 1933.

The House met at 9.00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Grover C. Talbot) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George F. Conner, offered the following prayer:

Our Father God, we are nearing the end of this legislative trail. We thank Thee for Thy presence with us thus far. "Lead, Thou us on." We are conscious of a sense of exultation, that the trail has been covered—almost. We are also aware of a sense of hurt—not from the flints in the path, and the hard tuggy climbs, and the hazardous desents, but that the record is not all we wish it were. There are yet strenuous days and nights ahead, with bristling problems of far reaching import—to these we dedicate ourselves anew. Grant that the Ladies and Gentlemen of the House may go forward, buoyantly, courageously, reckless of strength, with confident gallant tread, to the last mile of the trail. And may their record, finally surpass all legislative records of this House. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Thursday, March 30, 1933.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Thursday, March 30, 1933, when, on motion of Mr. O'Connor the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. FLYNN. HOUSE BILL No. 2105.

An Act making an appropriation to the Elk County General Hospital, Ridgway, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

COMMUNICATIONS AND PETITIONS

The SPEAKER laid before the House communications which were read by the Clerk as follows:

Woodrow Wilson Democratic League,
3285 Gaul Street, Phialdelphia, Pa., March 23, 1933.

The Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania
Harisburgh Penn.

RESOLUTION

We the undersigned members of the Woodrow Wilson Democratic League held a mass meeting on the day of March 23, 1933, at 3157-9 E. Thompson S Philadelphia Pa. Discussing the problems of distribution of beer and wines and its consequences in the future. We resolve as follows:—

Whereas, In regards that we have problems of unemployment in our opinion we deem it unwise to have the beer and wines distributed through the chain grocery and drug stores and restaurants.

Whereas, In our opinion no more than one license should be granted to one individual only.

Whereas, The license should be granted to any responsible individual citizen or group of citizens without political prestige.

Whereas, No beer or wines should be sold to minorss under twenty-one years of age or served by minor under the above age.

In conclusion, of the above. We beg that the body of legislature of the State of Pennsylvania to take under consideration the above statements.

We remained very respectfully yours,
FRANK PSZCZOLKOWSKI,
Frank Pszczolkowski Secretary.

The SPEAKER. The communication will be noted in the Journal and printed in the Legislative Journal.

RESOLUTION ON OLD AGE PENSION AMENDMENTS ADOPTED AT THE MEETING OF PHILADELPHIA CITIZENS, MARCH 17th, 1933.

Whereas, Pennsylvania was among the first three States to enact an Old Age Pension law ten years ago, and

Whereas, Since the law was declared unconstitutional the citizens of the State have been seeking to amend the Constitution in order to permit payment of pensions to aged and to widowed mothers, and

Whereas, The organized opposition of the greediest interests in the State dominated by Grundy and the State Chamber of Commerce have for eight years succeeded in killing these amendments in the Legislature thus preventing the right of the people to vote upon the issue, and

Whereas, The same interests are blocking the amendments now in the Senate Committee on Gratuities and Pensions, and there is danger that if these amendments are not passed by the present Legislature, the people will be unable to vote on the issue before 1938 at the earliest, and

Whereas, Since 1923 twenty-two States have already enacted Old Age Pension laws, six of them only during the last month, and

Whereas, These laws have provided the most humane and the most economical method in providing for the aged, and

Whereas, President Franklin D. Roosevelt has been one of the leading champions of this issue, and has been chiefly responsible for the successful operation of the New York law, which is now providing for 55,000 people, and

Whereas, Pennsylvania stand today isolated among all its neighboring State without an adequate method of caring for its dependent aged despite its greater need, and

Whereas, The amendments have been referred to a sub-committee composed of Senator Buckman, Fay, Woodward—the three bitterest opponents of these measures, thereby audaciously flouting the expressed opinion of the Commonwealth and insulting the intelligence of the voters,

Therefore, be it resolved that the citizens of Philadelphia in meeting assembled at the Friends' Meeting House, 20 South 12th Street, Philadelphia, on March 17th, 1933, condemn the action of the Senate Committee in withholding the amendments, and

Be it further resolved that the meeting urge Governor Gifford Pinchot to do everything in his power to defeat the Grundy influence in this State in blocking this great measure of social justice, and

Be it further resolved that the citizens of Philadelphia vigorously condemn the opposition of Senator George W. Woodward who has consistently opposed the right of the citizens of this State to vote upon the issue, and

Be it further resolved that copies of this RESOLUTION be sent to Governor Pinchot, the members of the Legislature, and to the press.

The SPEAKER. The communication will be noted in the Journal and printed in the Legislative Journal.

TAXPAYERS' PROTECTIVE LEAGUE

628 Walnut Street, Reading, Penna.

April 1, 1933.

Mr. Grover C. Talbot, Speaker of House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Penna.

Dear Sir:

On Tuesday, April 4th, the unemployed organizations of ten eastern counties of this State will visit Harrisburg. As you have granted a hearing in the House from 2.00 P. M. to 4.00 P. M. for this hearing we request that you ask the members of the House and Senate to be present.

We will present undeniable facts on Tuesday that show the real condition of things in this State and we don't hestitate to say that things are at the breaking point and action is demanded of the Legislature at once. Our speakers program will be arranged and placed in your hands, and we have sent a committee to Mr. Hoopes, and he has agreed to introduce our speakers in the proper order.

Hoping you will comply with the request to have the members of the Legislature present, we are Respectfully yours,

TAXPAYERS' PROTECTIVE LEAGUE,
LINCOLN H. STEIGERWALT,
Chairman, Executive Committee.

The SPEAKER. The communication will be noted in the Journal and printed in the Legislative Journal. The Chair requests that the members govern themselves accordingly.

CONFERENCE REPORT ON HOUSE BILL No. 1

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up the report of the Committee on Conference on House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 473.

The report of the Committee on Conference was read by the Clerk as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and the House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1, entitled: "An act relating to baseball and football on Sunday; prohibiting baseball and football on Sunday during certain hours, and also during certain other hours, unless the electors of a municipality are in favor of the same, and in certain cases a license has first been secured from the municipal authorities; providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors and for the enactment and repeal of licensing ordinances and resolutions in accordance therewith; providing penalties, and repealing inconsistent laws," respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

JOSEPH C. TRAINER,
JOHN J. McCLURE,
JAMES J. COYNE,
Committee on the part of the Senate.
LOUIS SCHWARTZ
WILSON G. SARIG,
JOSEPH G. STEEDLE,
Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.

An Act relating to baseball and football on Sunday prohibiting baseball and football on Sunday during certain hours and also during certain other hours unless the electors of a municipality are in favor of the same and in certain cases a license has first been secured from the municipal authorities providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors and for the enactment and repeal of licensing ordinances and resolutions in accordance therewith providing penalties and repealing incosistent laws

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Municipality Defined The word "municipality" as used in this act shall be construed to mean and include any city borough town and township of this Commonwealth

Section 2 Penalty for Unlawful Baseball and Football on Sunday It shall be unlawful for any person copartnership association or corporation to conduct stage or engage in any baseball or football game regardless whether a charge or admission thereto is made or whether labor or business is necessary to conduct manage stage or operate the same on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday before the hour of two o'clock post meridian or after the hour of six o'clock post meridian

It shall be unlawful for any person copartnership association or corporation to conduct stage or engage in any baseball or football games regardless whether a charge or an admission thereto or incidential thereto is made or whether labor or business is necessary to conduct manage stage or operate the same on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday between the hours of two o'clock post meridian and six o'clock post meridian unless the voters in the municipality have first voted in favor of baseball on Sunday as hereinafter provided and unless the person copartnership association or corporation proposing to conduct or stage any such baseball or football game to which an admission charge is made or is incidential shall first have secured from the proper municipal authority of the municipality a license authorizing him her or it to conduct or stage such baseball or football game between said hours on Sunday

Any person copartnership association or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding ten dollars ($10) and in default of the payment of such fine and costs of prosecution such person or any member or agent of any copartneship or association or any officer or agent of any corporation responsible for such violation shall be imprisoned for a period of not more than five days

Section 3 Ordinances and Resolutions License Fees If at the election in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three as hereinafter provided a majority of the electors in any municipality voting at said election vote in favor of baseball and football on Sunday between the hours of two o'clock post meridian and six o'clock post meridian then each municipality other than a township of the second class shall by ordinance and each township of the second class shall by resolution of the township supervisors provide for the licensing of baseball and football games to which an admission fee is charged or is incidental on Sunday between the hours of two o'clock post meridian and six o'clock post meridian If the vote of the electors in the municipality was not in favor of baseball and football then an ordinance or resolution providing for the licensing of baseball and football games shall be enacted or adopted

The license fees to be charged under any such ordinance or resolution for any baseball or football game to which an admission is charged or is incidental shall not exceed the following amounts In cities of the first and second class fifty dollars ($50) in cities of the second class A and third class twenty-five dollars ($25) in boroughs five dollars ($5) and in townships one dollar ($1)

All license fees collected under the provisions of any such ordinance or resolution shall be paid into the treasury of the municipality

Section 4 Referendum Statement of Question on Ballots At the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three there shall be submitted in the manner provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth a question to determine the will of the electors of each municipality in this Commonwealth with respect to baseball and football games on Sunday Such question shall be in the following form

Do you favor the conduct, staging and playing of baseball and football games regardless of whether an admission charge is made or incidental thereto, or whether labor or business is necessary to conduct, stage or operate the same between the hours of two and six post meridian on Sunday?	Yes No

The said question shall be printed on separate official ballots in bound form by the county commissioners of each county and sufficient number of ballots shall be furnished to the election officers in each election district of the county so that one ballot may be supplied to each voter at such election In districts where voting machines are used such question shall appear on the face of the machine where the machine is properly equipped for such purposes

Section 5 Returns and Computation of Votes The votes cast on such question shall be counted by the election officers and returns thereof made by them and by election officers where voting machines are used to the prothonotary of the county who shall lay the same before the return board for computation at the same time and in the same manner as other returns The return board shall compute the said returns by municipalities and certify the results of the vote cast on the question to the legislative body of each municipality within the county

Such election shall be governed by the election laws of the Commonwealth and all penalties provided by said laws shall apply to such elections

Section 6 Future Referendums In any municipality the will of the electors with respect to baseball and football on Sunday may after the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three but not oftener than once in three years be ascertained and the question as provided in this act shall be submitted to the electors of any municipality upon demand in writing of petitioners equal to at least five per centum of the highest vote cast for any office in the municipality at the last preceding general or municipal election Such petition shall be filed with the corporate authorities at least sixty days before the day of any general or municipal election at which the question is to be submitted and if the petition is sufficiently signed shall thereupon be certified to the county commissioners who shall cause such question to be submitted in the same manner as is provided in this act for the election in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three

If a majority of the electors voting in any municipality which licenses baseball and football games to which an admission charge is made or is incidental are not in favor of such licensing then the ordinance or resolution licensing such baseball and football games shall be repealed but if a majority of the electors in any such municipality which does not license baseball and football games are in favor of such licensing then an ordinance or resolution shall be enacted or adopted licensing baseball and football games to which an admission charge is made or is incidental as provided in this act

Section 7 Intent of Act It is the intent of this act to provide a method whereby the will of the electors of each municipality with respect to baseball and football games on Sunday between the hours of two o'clock post meridian and six o'clock post meridian may be ascertained and it shall be the duty of the legislative body of each municipality to enact adopt or repeal any ordinance or resolution in accordance with the will of the electors as ascertained at said elections In case of a failure so to do the duty herein imposed upon the legislative body of any municipality may be enforced by mandamus

Section 8 Repeal Section one of the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand seven hundred and ninety-four (3 Sm L 177) entitled "An act for the prevention of vice and immorality and of unlawful gaming and to restrain disorderly sports and dissipation" be and the same is hereby repealed in so far as it prohibits baseball and football games on Sunday

Section 9 Constitutionality The provisions of this Act are severable and if any of the provisions hereof are held to be unconstitutional the decision shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act it is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included herein

Section 10 Hunting and Fishing Nothing contained in this act shall relate to Sunday hunting and fishing or be construed as repealing any law relating thereto

Section 11 Effective Date This act shall be effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, to some of us the original of House Bill No. 1 was objectionable. In many of its features I personally could not agree. I felt that that was not taking the proper method of procedure to determine this important question.

As you know originally, as it passed the House, it provided for the repeal of the so called blue laws and then permitted our various municipalities to pass ordinances which could only be eliminated by a future referendum. To me that was not the proper proceeding, and therefore I voted against the bill.

I have read the conference report with a great deal of interest. This conference report, insofar as I am concerned has removed those objectionable features. It now is in a form where I believe that any member who believes in democratic government can vote for it.

Today I think we all agree that the matter of Sunday observance is largely a matter of local determination. This bill, as it is now presented to us in the conference report, gives an opportunity to the various districts and municipalities to say what they want in connection with this particular matter. Therefore, I personally am in favor of this conference report because it allows local self-determination.

On the question recurring.

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Consttiution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

An Act to further amend clause (a) of section four of the act, approved the eighteenth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, five hundred forty-nine), entitled "An act to permit the use of voting machines for recording and computing the vote at all elections, including primaries, in any county, city, borough or township of the Commonwealth, at the option of the electors thereof; prescribing regulations with reference to the adoption, requirements, examination, purchase, installation, preparation, custody and demonstration of use of voting machines; providing rules and regulations for the conduct of elections held with voting machines; prescribing the qualifications, number and duties of election officers in the election districts in which voting machines may be used; placing duties upon County Commissioners and the Secretary of the Commonwealth; providing for redivision of wards of cities and boroughs into election districts, and the consolidation of election districts; providing for the payment of expenses incident to the purchase and use of voting machines by the counties in which they are used; and providing penalties for violation of the provisions of this act," as amended, by providing that the Courts of Quarter Sessions may order that one additional voting machine be provided in certain election districts.

Mr. HEFFNER, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, House Bill No. 6, entitled:

An Act to further amend paragraph eight of section one thousand two hundred ten, of an act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred nine), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue, and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended, decreasing the minimum salaries of county superintendents and assistant county superintendents.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE, from the Committee on Municipal Corporations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1760, entitled:

An Act providing for the assessment of costs, for the acquiring and adopting of or connectiing with existing sewers of adjacent municipalties by townships or boroughs and the maintenance thereof and providing for filing of liens therefor.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1198, entitled:

An Act relating to dentistry; defining and providing for the licensing and registration of dentists, and dental hygienists, and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses and registrations subject to appeal, and for their reinstatement; defining the powers and duties of the State Dental Council and Examining Board and the Department of Public Instruction; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws.

Mr. HORST, from the Committee on Agriculture, reported as amended, House Bill No. 11, entitled

An Act to amend clause (b) of section two of the act approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws, six hundred eighty-two), entitled "An act relating to domestic animals and providing for their appraisement when about to be slaughtered to prevent the spread of disease; and regulating payments by the Commonwealth in such cases, and the payment of salvage by butchers," by reducing the amount of payments to be made by the Commonwealth.

HOUSE BILL No. 22 SPECIAL ORDER

The SPEAKER. The hour of 9.30 o'clock having arrived, the Chair lays before the House the Special Order on third reading fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 22.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 22, entitled:

An Act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers deputies and employes providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the imoprtance of this occasion is fully attested by the number of visitors who are upon the floor of this House, and who, I think it is safe to say, have mainly come here for no other reason than to hear what is said in reference to House Bill No. 22 and to know the result of the vote thereon.

I anticipated the importance of this occasion and felt that you gentlemen and ladies of the House were entitled to the fullest exposition of this bill and of the underlying reasons in support of it, and of the reasons that urged us in the creation of this bill. I, therefore, deemed it necessary to prepare for this House a speech that would outline the purposes of the bill and the objects of the sponsor, but realizing that we have a very long calendar, realizing that there are many people who are standing about the floor of the House, and realizing that I might try the patience of the members of the House in reading a speech of this kind, I am going to ask the opportunity of filing the speech and of merely touching as I can, upon the high points thereof.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there has been a great deal of misunderstanding in reference to House Bill No. 22. There have been a great many reports, there have been a great many newspaper articles, there have been a great number of communications sent from the departments and from different parts of the capitol to the people of Pennsylvania. Therefore it may seem pertinent to ask why at that time we started on this measure.

I am certain that had I desired to secure from the members of this House some claim of popularity, as well as from the employes of the state, I would have never undertaken this measure. But last December a group of us met here in Harrisburg and discussed some of the possibilities of legislation, and I was detailed to the duty of studying the administrative code with the idea of reducing the cost of government, to cut out the frills and take away functions which we thought were operating at an expense to the government of Pennsylvania, which were not justified under the conditions of depression that exist.

During the month of December we did intensive work on this bill. On the first day of the session this bill was introduced as an amendment to the administrative code. It contained rather drastic cuts. We had tried to go as deeply as possible into the service offered by the state in the belief that in times like this the state has no right to support any service that does not justify itself when considered with the amount of money that the state has to expend. After the bill was introduced it was referred to the State Government Committee, of which the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton is the chairman, and he appointed a sub-committee of eight members, consisting of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Sarig, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tahl, and Messrs. Hutton and Wall and myself.

We immediately sent to every department of the state government a questionnaire. The gentleman from Philadelphia shakes his head and reminds me that he was not a member of that sub-committee and I apologize. He was not. We sent to every department of the state government a questionnaire asking for detailed information as to the functions of every department and of every bureau and the specific acts of the legislature pertaining thereto. We also asked for certain information as to salaries paid in 1926, 1931 and 1932. After some delay, and I will say to the credit of the heads of the departments not occasioned by the heads of the departments, but by a skillful little buck passing game that kept us delayed about ten days or two weeks, we secured the information for which we had asked. We then asked the departments to appear before us and they voluntarily did, and this committee sat around the table in the committee room with the stenographers of this House, to whom I desire to give credit for their volunteered services, that they gave to this committee, taking stenographic notes of the work of the committee. Day in and day out this committee sat listening to these departments, getting their comments and their criticisms and asking them questions pertinent to the duties and functions of their departments. When that work had been completed, that testimony was digested, and then the committee sat here one Sunday and Monday and went back through the bill with all the information before them that had been given to them, and revised and cut, and put back in and took out things which they felt should be taken out. Then the bill was reported to this floor, and then it went to a joint committee of the House and of the Senate, composed in the Senate of Messrs. Scott, McClure, Baumer and Woodward, and in the House of Messrs. Sterling, Mathay, Steedle, Hutton and myself, and there again we went through this bill, offering to that committee the things we had done, the changes that had been made, the powers and duties and functions where they had been affected by the bill. We compared it with the Sterling Committee recommendations that affected the administrative code, and after that committee was through with it the bill was again sent back to the floor of the House, and is now before you for final action.

It may be pertinent to ask what is the administrative code. The administrative code sets up the machinery of the executive and administrative Departments of the government of State. The Constitution sets up the three branches, but the administrative code states the functions that shall be performed by that executive branch of the government. It does not in itself set up legislate functions, but it does say what a department shall do and of what it shall consist. It sets up the bureaus and boards and commissions, and it then sets forth the duties, powers, and the functions of those different departments. Not all of these duties and functions and rules are contained within the administrative code. In the first place, there are many of these powers and duties and functions most of them are contained in separate acts of this legislature. I refer to but one. The Sterling Committee recommended that the dog law, as administered by the Department of Agriculture, should be taken over by the State Police. That is contained in a separate bill, and is not mentioned within the administrative code.

As I said to you, I shall try briefly to tell you about this bill. The bill, in the first place reduces the salary of the Governor, the salary of the heads of the departments the Auditor General, the State Treasurer, the Secretary of Internal Affairs, and the Lieutenant Governor. It controls all of the salaries, and sets up all of the salaries down to four thousand dollars, and provides that no salary shall be paid over the sum of four thousand dollars unless set forth in the statute.

It sets up the number of bureaus and the number of deputies, that each department may have, and then, as I have said before, it commands, it regulates, it controls some of the duties, powers and functions of the departments.

It was built for the purpose of effecting economy and I deny the charge of any one that it will not effect economy. It is the foundation stone of an economic program, it is the necessary foundation stone upon which to build the appropriation bill for this session.

I say it to you in all the solemnity of a member of this House, having been a member for five terms, and having been upon this floor since 1925, and I defy one to say that I have ever misled this House. I say to you that this bill was conceived for the purpose of effecting economies and that it does effect economies in the state government. Now, ladies and gentlemen of the House, are you interested in that or are you not?

I have conceived it to be the clear mandate of the people of Pennsylvania that they want the cost of government reduced. I believe the thousands of people a week ago standing upon the plaza here echoed that cry from the people of Pennsylvania. All over this State they have been coming in asking you to reduce the cost of government no matter in what way or in what form. It is your duty and your obligation as well as mine to see that that is done.

There has been the charge made that there is politics in this bill, that the executive board has been created for the purpose of curtailing and taking away from the Governer some of his powers. I say to you again, with all the solemnity that I can possess, I say to you with all the earnestness that I can muster that you can go to any man of that sub-committee of the State Government Committee, and you can inquire of him upon his oath, and I know that he will say to you that never once during the deliberations of this sub-committee in working on this bill was there one iota of politics in it. I know that he will say to you that we cut friend and other people alike, that at no time in the consideration of this bill did we consider the person in office. I defy any person to go to one part of this bill or the other and find any place in the bill where there are inequalities. We tried to cut equally all down along the line. We believe that if economy is to be effected, that the cut must come every place, and that there must not be in it a favored few. But the charge has been made that there is politics in it. We men who have fought and worked for this bill over four months are interested in only seeing that economy may come.

Today the Chairman of the Republican State Committee sent to me a communication, copies of which I have handed to the members, in which he said that the State Republican organization is committed to a policy of economy in government without politics, and he asked me to take out of this bill the Executive Board.

I say to you ladies and gentlemen that I believe today just as I did on the day when we first wrote it in this bill that the Executive Board is a necessary thing, as we have set it up by the five elective officers in this bill. I am just as firm in the belief that the Executive Board is the very foundation of the maintenance of the control by the Legislature over the executive branch of this government, in order that it may not run away in extravagant expenditures. I say to you that I believe it is necessary that we do economize in State government, but the Executive Board has nothing to do at the moment with effecting economies. We are endeavoring to make way for an economy program, we are attempting to go forward. So, when these leaders of the Republican State organization said to me today, we ask that you take this out of the bill. We ask you that if we pledge that in the Senate we will amend this bill, and you will stand behind it, we will have the bill amended to take out the Executive Board.

Ladies and gentlemen, I have spent four months here. I have been here when you have gone home. I have been here Sundays, I have been here at nights, I have been here at times when this House has been locked up and dark excepting the light burning over there in the State Government Committee rooms.

I say to you that this provision for an Executive Board cannot be charged with politics, and if that charge is to have any effect on your minds upon the passage of this bill, then I am willing to take it out, painful as it may be.

I understand that the Democrats have said that this was a political scheme on the part of the Republican organization; that the Democratic party expected at the next election to elect a Governor, and that they thought the Republican party was trying by this measure to effect check and control upon the government and hamstring a Democratic governor of Pennsylvania. Ladies and gentlemen, if this is the thing to protect our government, if this is the thing to cut down our cost, if this is the thing to bring about the proper and right government no matter who is Governor, if it effects a check upon it, you ought to stand here and vote for it. In order that you may not have any doubt in your minds, I say to you gentlemen of the Democratic party that this is the time, as is being done down in Washington today, when the Republican and the Democratic parties are standing together to effect economies in government, to bring about a better condition in this country, that you members ought not to be bound by partisian politics, that you ought not to be bound by petty politics, but you ought to do this from the standpoint of the people of Pennsylvania.

I ask you to believe me if you wont believe anyone else, because I have been the colleague of some of you for years, and I have never lied to anyone of you on the floor of this House or outside of it that I know of, I say to you that I will promise to you tonight that this bill will be amended in the Senate to take out the Executive Board.

You might ask me why don't you amend it now and why don't you offer the amendments. If you know what kind of a task is take it out of the bill, if you know how many amendments it will be necessary for me to offer to take it out of the bill, I think you will understand it. It could not be prepared in twenty-four hours. It would not have been back here with the printing that would be necessary before the latter part of the week. I do not want to hold up the work of this House, I do not want to hold up the machinery of this House, and I do not think you ought to ask that it be held up upon the promise that I make here today. When I say to you that this bill will be amended in the Senate if you vote for it, because you believe that the executive board is harming your party. I hope that is not true. I hope you gentlemen of the Democratic party are forgetting party lines, and we of the Republican party too are forgetting party lines, but we are all standing here for economy for the people of Pennsylvania, for a measure that will enable us to effect a real economy.

Can you afford to go back to the voters in your district upon any petty proposition as to why wou did not vote for this bill?

Today you may hear the rumbling of special interest, and of those who have special interests why they want something from this bill, but tomorrow you will hear the voices of thousands of more people in Pennsylvania, if you do not pass this bill tonight.

(Extended remarks of Mr. Turner).

As has been stated a number of times on the floor of this House during this Session, notwithstanding great interest of the people in many bills now before the Legislature, the most vital necessity in government today is the reduction of its cost.

House Bill No. 22 is a part of a program to accomplish such reduction. It must not be considered alone but must be taken in conjunction with a great number of bills pertaining to the functions of departments, boards and commissions, and must be considered as the foundation for an appropriation bill which will cut the cost of State Government by many millions of dollars.

There has been much misunderstanding as to just what is the Administrative Code.

In its broad sense it may be said to set up the machinery for the operation of the entire executive branch of the State Government including the Departments of the Auditor General, State Treasurer, and Secretary of Internal Affairs, the heads of which are elective officials, and which Departments therefore are independent of the Governor.

The Code sets up the Administrative Departments, Boards and Commissions, and defines their powers, duties and functions.

It does not, however, provide all of the authority under which these Departments, Boards and Commissions operate. Most of this law is found in Acts of the Legislature other than the Code. Some of the duties imposed upon the Departments by Acts of the Legislature are not mentioned within the Code.

For instance the Sterling Committee recommended that the enforcement of the dog licensing act be transferred from the Department of Agriculture to the State Police. This is carried out by a separate act and does not and never has appeared within the Code. It was recommended both by the sub-committee on State Covernment and by the joint Legislative Committee on Finance that the Motor Patrol be transferred from Revenue to State Police. While provision is made for this within the Code, it is necessary to have a separate Act providing for such a transfer before it could become effective. The expanding cost of government is not caused by the simple and fundamental functions of Government as conceived by the founders of this Nation, but by the addition of so-called service and supervisory and regulatory provisions which have from time to time been added by law to the structure and the duties of government and its departments.

These become a part of the said "duties, powers and functions" of the departments as set forth in the Code and are a part of the continually rising cost of our State Government. It would be bad enough were the cost alone placed directly upon the taxpayer through the expenditure of State monies, but in many instances these supervisory and regulatory powers add great sums to the cost of business which must fall upon the average citizen in the cost of doing business or in the price of the commodity which he purchases.

While the cost in money is important enough to command our earnest consideration, there is a more serious problem involved.

The Hon. James M. Beck in his book "Our Wonderland of Bureaucracy," says:

"That Constitution (of the United States) was the noblest expression of the spirit of individualism in the annals of the world. Its fundamental philosophy was that the interference by the Government in the life of the individual should be reduced to a minimum. This spirit was embodied in the following eloquent passage from Jefferson's first inaugural:

"'A wise and frugal Government, which shall restrain men from injuring one another, shall otherwise leave them free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned!'"

Jumping from Jefferson to modern times, the Chicago Daily Tribune on December 24th, 1931, said:

"Under one pretext and another there seems to be no right and no activity in our lives that Government in these days is not looking for some excuse to regulate or suppress. The main concern of the National Government has become snooping. This is a rapidly growing nuisance characteristic of bureaucracy, and intolerable. We have multiplied bureaus whose ruling passion is interference with individual liberty and the increase of their powers. This is the universal nature of bureaucracy, and it is making a joke of the guarantees of civil liberty. Also, it is absorbing more and more of the public revenue and piling up a burden of taxation which is killing private enterprise and national prosperity."

It therefore must be apparent that as the Administrative Code sets up the machinery of the Executive Branch and in general terms recites the powers, duties and functions of the Administrative departments, boards and commissions, that any general curtailment of the cost of Government must begin through amendment of the Administrative Code by contracting the plan of organization, cutting out frills and useless functions, and repealing those that are not an absolute necessity when measured by the ability of the State to pay the cost without adding to the tax burden.

Having determined what is the purpose of the Administrative Code and the amendments thereto it may next be pertinent to inquire what changes have been made to bring about the said reduction in the cost of government, to curtail bureaucracy and to relieve business and the average citizen from as much infringement of his individual liberties as possible.

It is to be regretted that the Committee could not have wiped the slate clean, cut the Government to the bare essentials, and then attacked the problem, making each service that is added justify itself before it should be reinstated. As far as possible by interviews with executives of the different departments and from a perusal of their functions, this was done. I am satisfied, however, that we have only made a beginning and that the report of the Streling Committee and the work of the State Government Committee in this Session will erect a foundation upon which future Legislatures may build.

House Bill No. 22 accomplishes a number of things which may be generally classified as follows:

First—It reduces the salary of the elective officers of department heads, deputies and bureau chiefs and limits the salaries of the heads and business managers of State Institutions.

Second—It fixes the number of deputies in the Departments at thirty-nine. At present there are fifty-nine, but the number is not limited by law.

Three—The number of bureaus now unlimited by law is reduced from one hundred and sixty to not more than seventy-five.

Four—It provides that no salary shall be paid in excess of the sum of $4,000 unless expressly provided by law.

Our forefathers knew that the appropriating power was the real factor in the control of Government. When the Legislature permits appropriations to be used without control upon the amounts exended as in the case of salaries, it is giving away that power which was granted to it under the Constitution, and which all our experience has taught us must remain in the hands of the Representatives of the people if Democracy is to survive.

Five—As at present it creates an executive board of five members made up of the five elective officers, to wit—the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Auditor General, State Treasurer and Secretary of Internal Affairs.

I have been requested to agree to amendments in the Senate to restore the board to the status as at present wherein the Governor appoints the board.

As the question of classification and of salaries affects the finances of the State Government it is proper that the Legislature should in some manner set up a board to prevent the abuse of the unlimited right to classify and to fix salaries. The only other way in which the Legislature can control this would be by making all salaries statutory which is cumbersome and not flexible enough for administrative purposes. There has long been a school of political economists who have believed that all salaries should be fixed by a board and that none should be statutory. We have seen evidences of this in the legislation requesting salary boards in our counties. Heretofore in our State Government the widest latitude has been allowed to the elective officers in fixing the salaries in their departments. If you could have studied the reports as we have done, it is certain that you would be convinced that there has been wide abuse of this power and that if we are to reduce the cost of government it must start at this point, by controlling salary rates.

The Executive Board is further given the control of publications. Publications are one of the favorite activities of bureaus. Many useless reports and pamphlets are published at the expense of the taxpayer for the glorification of the departments or their administrative heads. The number who find use for them is small in proportion to the circulation. And the other expense in many instances is absolutely unwarranted.

Sixth—It sets up a Bureau of Statistics in the Department of Internal Affairs, where the Constitution required that there be a Bureau of Statistics, to increase the efficiency and cut out duplication of effort, as well as effect a reduction in the cost of gathering statistics. Because there are certain statistics which are purely departmental, or which cannot be handled by a centralized system, provision is made to care for this.

Seventh—It provides for the transfer of the motor patrol from the Department of Revenue to State Police by setting up two bureaus in the Department of State Police—one being State Police and the other Motor Patrol. This will reduce the operating cost and add to the efficiency of the organization without interfering with its functions as exclusively a Highway Patrol.

Eighth—It provides that the Auditor General, State Treasurer and Board of Finance and Revenue are not in all cases required to follow legal advice from the Department of Justice. It exempts them from all liability when such advice is followed and further provides that they may engage any attorney to represent them, jointly or individually, in any matter of public business of their departments when they are not in accord with the legal position taken by the Attorney General in which event they are exempted from any liability in such action.

If such condition had prevailed prior to the 1932 Special Session of Legislature, it would not have been necessary for that session to have been called and the taxpayers would have been saved upwards of half a million dollars.

Ninth—It is impossible in a statement of this kind to relate all of the minute details by which the powers and duties of the departments are affected by the act. An analysis of the changes in the code was prepared and has been distributed to the members of this House. Attention, however, should be called to the fact that in many places the power of the departments, boards and commissions to make rules and regulations such as they might deem necessary has been changed to provide that they may be made as provided by law.

Throughout the present Administrative Code power is indiscriminately granted to the Departments, Boards and Commissions to make such rules and regulations as they may deem proper. These rules and regulations affect almost every function of our private and business existence and have the force and effect of acts of the Legislature.

This adds to the cost of government by creating supervisory inspection and investigating forces, which in turn develop divisions and bureaus solely for the enforcement of the rules and regulations made by the Department, Board or Commission.

In the unrestrained power of bureaucracy to make rules and regulations is the greatest danger to individual liberty and hence to democracy.

Tenth—Financial statistics are to be compiled by the Department of the Auditor General that the Legislature and the departments as well as the public may have accurate and current information as to the receipts and expenditures of the entire State Government. A report must be given within three weeks of the convening of the Legislature.

Any member who has served on committees, where information was necessary as to receipts and expenditures, knows how difficult it has at times been to secure accurate financial data. The Legislature has at times been required, as in this Session to pass resolutions to obtain the desired financial statements necessary for its information.

Eleventh—It requires copies of all budgets to be filed with the Auditor General, and that no payments be made excepting in conformity with the budget.

This is essential if budgetary control is to be effective.

It does not transfer control of the budget from the Governor to the Auditor General, as he alleges.

It does not change the provision in Article VI which gives to the Governor the power to make and approve the Budget.

It does, however, require the Governor, the Auditor General and State Treasurer to make budget estimates. This is a check upon the "willy-nilly" expenditures of money by the Governor in his own office.

If we are to have a budget, why should not all be equally dealt with.

The claim is made by the Governor that the saving under House Bill No. 22 will only be $724,000. This is an increase of $224.000 over the amount which he stated a week ago would be saved under the bill. With the experience of 1931 and '32 behind me, I am not at all dismayed by any statement of figures that may emanate from the Governor or his officials. The record of that 1932 Special Session as will be found in the Legislative Journal will make interesting reading for anyone who cares to peruse the same with the object of ascertaining the accuracy of figures which are put out by the Executive and his department heads. We denied the accuracy of his figures then, and by the budget of 1933-'35, we are proven to have been correct.

Also if you will study the budget as submitted by the Governor for 1933 to 1935 you will find that what appears to be large savings in the operation of departments are later wiped out by other statements, which it was evidently expected the casual observer would not see.

We have never said that House Bill No. 22 in itself or by the direct reductions in salaries and positions could save the huge sum of $10,000,000. What we did say was this:

> "House Bill No. 22 proposes amendments which will make possible reductions of upwards of $10,000,000 in the cost of operating the State Government during the biennium."

Even if we are wrong in our estimates, it would take a very dull person to oppose the enactment of the measure upon the ground that the sum total of its savings was $724,000. This may seem like small change to the Governor but looms very large in the present situation when that sum would go a long way towards helping many school districts that may find it impossible to open their doors next year.

Apparently the shoe pinches, or the Governor would not have appeared as the antagonist of the bill. Remember that every bit of economy which was effected in the 1932 Special Session was forced upon the Governor. Remember also that he has stood steadfastly against cutting salaries, but has since tried to compromise on a ten per cent. cut. If the Legislature is firm, large economies will be made. If it is fooled by trick figures and muddy statements, these economies will not be possible.

What the Legislature should bear in mind, however, is that No. 22 is primarily built to effect reductions by creating checks upon the expansion of Bureaucracy.

Mr. Beck in his book above referred to cites the fact that:

> "Bureaucracy within bounds, both in number of members and in control by law, is essential in any form of Government. We live in an age of specialized work. There is no necessary evil implication in the word 'bureau.' They are obviously essential to enable the Government to function within the limits of its constitutional powers. Our nation has assuredly not under estimated this necessity. The taxpayers are directly or indirectly supporting at least ten million people in the Government, Federal, State and municipal, or one-twelfth of the population of the country. And as many of them exercise large discretionary powers, Bureaucracy has become a real menace to the Welfare of the nation. Many of the Federal Bureaus have no justification in any grant of power and are fast making the Constitution a mere rhapsody of words."

The same may be said of the Government of Pennsylvania in the records of which we will find some startling examples of the rising cost of Government.

The Department of Public Instruction in 1913 received a total of $19,789,185 or 30 per cent. of the general fund. In 1933-35 the budget proposes $82,224,467 from which must be deducted $4,800,000, plus, of receipts from State Teachers Colleges or a total of $77,400,000 as a net amount or approximately 52 per cent. of the general fund appropriation.

It is interesting to note that the average increase in population of Pennsylvania from 1910 to 1930 was about 12 per cent.

Of the above amount $53,000,000 is for the support of the public schools. The supervisory and regulatory powers of the Department of Public Instruction requires about $2,000,000 for salaries and expenses.

The Department of Welfare was created in 1919 and received an appropriation of $22,001,780.53. It is proposed for 1933-35 for the Department $34,858,725, of which sum approximately $600,000 will be neecssary for the salary and wages of the Department alone, exclusive of the salaries and wages paid in the many institutions over which it has control.

The Department of Labor and Industry in 1913 to 1915 received $378,400 while for 1933-35 it is proposed to appropriate the sum of $2,007,000.

In the Department of Agriculture the appropriation for 1913-15 was $1,158,465.95. And in 1933-35 an appropriation of $4,459,000 is recommended by the Governor.

The Department of Revenue, which was created in 1929 expended during that biennium $785,000. While this is not a service department in the sense of welfare, nevertheless examination of the figures reveals an expansion from the 1929-31 figures to $1,429,750 in 1931-33. The appropriation asked for 1933-35 is $1,350,000.

To summarize, the cost of the State Departments of Agriculture, Public Instruction, Welfare, and Labor and Industry increased from $38,017,341.26 in 1913-15 to $123,549,192 in 1933-35.

Is it therefore any wonder that any group of legislators finding it necessary to reduce the cost of government must curtail the cost of these departments, in so far as it is possible to reduce their functions, put checks upon their unlimited expansion and their powers to make rules and regulations.

This bill is the culmination of the incessant work of a number of members of this House including the sub-committee of the Committee on State Government consisting of Messrs. Hutton, Sarig, Rice, Steedle, Tahl, Wall, Wilson and myself. The sub-committee has been ably assisted by men of long experience in State Government, and by the Reference Bureau The bill has undergone change in its progress from day of its introduction. It is a voluminous subject and an endless task.

It also passed the scrutiny of the joint committee of the House and Senate known as the "Fay Committee" consisting of Senators Scott, Woodward, Baumer, McClure, and Fay, and of Messrs. Mathay, Sterling, Steedle, Hutton and myself of the House. It has had incorporated into it, in so far as agreed upon in the Fay Committee, the recommendation of the Sterling Committee which pertained to the code.

It is an honest attempt without partisan bias to reduce the cost and to curtail Bureaucracy.

Bureaucracy is parasitic and destructive of the vigor and health of the body politic.

Bureaus usually come into being at the instance of an interested minority. Their great mission and constant activity is to make business for themselves, secure larger appropriations, and persuade by printed pages and radio ballyhoo, and overtaxed people that the expense is justified.

Their power to make rules and regulations transforms our government from one of limited into one of unlimited power.

They have not been asleep to the danger of their uncontrolled power and expansion as contained in the checks set up in House Bill No. 22. Every possible pressure from the social service worker, the uplifter, organized minorities and special interests, which derive a benefit from service at the expense of the taxpayer has been brought to bear to defeat this measure.

In addition there have gone from the Governor's own Administrative Departments during the last three months, thousands of letters, uncounted telephone and telegraph messages as well as State employes acting as special pleaders and organizers of propaganda in various sections of the State. All of this expensive activity at public cost, has been conducted to oppose enactment of the single comprehensive bill now before the Legislature to do the thing that must be done by Pennsylvania sooner or later—deflate the cost of government. What price Bureaucracy?

This is not my personal fight. It is a battle of the people to be relieved from taxation and excessvie interference in their personal liberty. The stress of financial depression alone has made it possible to undertake this effort. If we do not do it now, the opportunity may not come until it is too late, and our Democracy has been destroyed by the bureaucratic "Frankenstein," which we have created.

Mr. JOHN J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a member of the Democratic party, I recognize its responsibilties to the people of Pennsylvania. Inasmuch as the Democratic party is pledged to economy, both in the State and in the nation and in view of the promise of that party, I arise to oppose the passage of House Bill No. 22, which we understand is the economy bill of the State Republican organization.

We recognize, as Democrats, our responsibilties to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania; and we recognize that the citizens of Pennsylvania are entitled to something more than just tax reductions. They are entitled to a voice in their government, which I charge the Republican leadership of this House is preventing by the control of the committee that now have liberal legislation in their hands, that will both reduce the cost of government and restore the rights of the people of Pennsylvania.

If the Republican leadership of this House will release those bills in committee and give the Democratic and Liberal members of this House an apportunity to vote on liberal legislation, it will not only reduce the cost of government in this State, but reduce the cost of government in the counties and the townships and restore to the people, the wage earners, the small taxpayers and the small business men some of the liberal and social legislation that they are entitled to and what they have been deprived of for thirty years under the Republican administration. If the Republican organization will give to the people of Pennsylvania the government that belongs to them, then I say that the Democratic party will support House Bill No. 22. But up until tonight we have been pressing the committees to get out legislation introduced by the Democratic members that not only affect taxation but restore the rights of the people, and I say that as a result of Republican control of the House we cannot carry out the platform of the Democratic party, which is to give the government back to the people.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware state in how many sections of this bill the Executive Board idea is contained?

Mr. TURNER. I could not state in how many sections Mr. Speaker, because it runs through a great deal of the bill. I can say this, I can give the gentleman specific sections, pertaining to the Executive Board: On page 132 and on page 39, but while those are the specific sections setting up the Executive Board, you must remember by reason of the approvals required of the Executive Board that it runs almost through the entire act, and that it would be necessary in making these amendments to go back through the act and carry that back to the former condition existing under the present administrative code. In many places the warrant of approval is required of the Governor, in many places it is required of the Auditor General but in some places by the Executive Board.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the statement of the gentleman from Delaware, that the Executive Board idea runs through the entire bill is correct in my opinion, and that is the biggest part of the bill.

The Executive Board idea permeates this entire bill, and when you cut from the various sections of the bill the Executive Board idea, you have ruined the bill.

The gentleman from Delaware further stated that the Democrats felt that this bill was political and I agree with that statement, because we do believe that it is political. We believe that it was political in its inception. It may not have been discussed from a political angle in the meetings of the committee, but we believe that the ulterior purpose of this bill is the control of the State government of Pennsylvania, regardless who is the Governor. Therefore I believe that the Democrats are against it. Moreover, the bill has been advertised as an economy measure, it has been heralded throughout the entire State of Pennsylvania as being a measure for economy.

We have heard it stated that it will result in economies of ten million dollars and we have seen the statement of the Governor that it would result in economies of about seven hundred thousand dollars. Therefore there is a discrepancy in somebody's figures of over nine million dollars. Now, who is right?

It is my contention that this bill is an economy measure in so far as its publicity is concerned, that it is the camouflage back of the political idea. The Democrats offer real economy, but we are not for partisian economy which we believe is the idea that permeates this particular piece of legislation.

I believe that the architect of this bill has taken a pot shot at every department not controlled by the Republican organization. I should like to have somebody state what it does to the Treasury Department, what it does to the Auditor General's Department, what it does to the Department of Internal Affairs.

Furthermore, the gentleman from Delaware states that this bill will be amended in the Senate. As far as I am concerned, it is too important a matter to be amended in the Senate on the promise of anybody. This bill would have to be revamped and revised, and as far as I am concerned I want to see the amendments to the bill before I vote for the bill on any proposed or any promised amendments.

So far as economy is concerned, we are for economy and we have to have economy, and we will get economy quicker if we defeat this bill than if we pass it.

The recommendations of the Sterling Committee in my opinion are the basis of real economy without disrupting the entire governmental operations. The Sterling Committee has worked for two years or more, and they have given a voluminous and detailed report. Their recommendations are comprehensive, they open up the road for a real economy program, and disavow all politics.

I noticed in tonight's paper that the Chairman of the Republican Party stated as follows:

"The Republican State organization is committed to a policy of economy in government without politics so that the burden on the taxpayer, especially the small home owner may be relieved promptly. To this end weeks of work have been done on the Turner Bill or House Bill No. 22, and on the General Appropriation Bill House Bill No. 26, and on other measures.

I would like to have someone explain where the Turner bill, House Bill No. 22, relieves the burden of the local taxpayer one cent. Nobody has given any explanation of the economies that are supposed to be accomplished by this particular bill in any way, shape or form. We merely have the allegation set forth in the newspapers that it would effect economies to the extent of ten million dollars. Whether it is true or whether it is not, where will it produce any relief to the real estate owner back home or to the local taxpayer? I can see none so far as I am concerned.

Then, again, the Republican State Chairman says this:

"I will use all of my influence in the Republican State organization to have cut out these sections referred to when the bill is in the Senate."

He speaks of a section, but the gentleman from Delaware says that it permeates the entire bill insofar as the idea of the Executive Board is concerned. Does the Republican State Chairman conceive that this bill only has one section pertaining to the Executive Board?

I say that anybody that reads this bill will see that that is the germane point of the entire piece of legislation and therefore, insofar as the Democrats are concerned, we are against it, in my opinion. We are for economy, but not this kind of economy.

There is plenty of legislation before this body in the committees to produce a real economy program, one that will relieve the taxpayers back home as well as curtail the expenditures of the government and we are going to be for a program of that kind and not for this measure.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, if the membership will bear with me I will try to explain the financial features of this bill in detail.

The Executive Board provision of House Bill No. 22 was the hearts of the measure; it was the brain of the measure, it was the controlling force of the measure. The Executive Board, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, is the power to standardize the qualifications of employment, and the type of salaries and wages of persons employed by the administrative departments, boards and commissions, except the department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department, barring a change in the personnel of the Executive Board and continuing the powers of the present personnel there can be no economies effected by House Bill No. 22, that are not specifically set forth in the measure.

The prospectus issued by the sponsor of the measure under consideration says that House Bill No. 22 is purely an economy measure proposing to save more than ten millions of dollars in the operation of State Government. Mark my words, "proposing to save." As an economy measure House Bill No. 22 is a promise; that ten million dollars is hypothetical money.

Further, the prospectus states that a saving is effected, "is effected," mind you, not through arbitrary abandonment of the functions of government, but by checking the expenses and increasing the efficiency of the machinery performing that function. Checking expansion, if that means anything, it means simply the saving of money that might perhaps be spent.

I say to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, that it is impossible to save ten million dollars by juggling the payrolls. The only way saving, actual saving, can be effected, is by the abandonment of the governmental functions, something the gentleman says he does not propose to effect. I challenge the accuracy of the first paragraph carried in the prospectus issued in support of House Bill No. 22. It is time we discussed this measure in terms of fact. What does this bill actually do as an economy measure, and what would it be necessary to do in order to save ten millions of dollars by payroll reductions and administrative reform?

Let us keep to the record. Section 204 is probably cut for the reorganized Executive Board is out, but that section created a secretary, a new job, at an increased expense of $5,000. Then it authorizes the Executive Board that was to be appointed to appoint such other officers and employes as may be necessary in order to conduct the work of the board. If I know anything about boards that have the power to appoint the necessary employes, that provision would have cost the State of Pennsylvania at least fifty thousand dollars for the biennium.

Starting with ten million dollars as the amount to be absorbed as a financial onion, from which it is necessary to pare layer after layer until the ten million dollars has disappeared we would have left Section 204 with ten million fifty-five thousand dollars as the amount to be written off.

Section 209 reduces the salaries of executive officers and department heads by a total of forty thousand dollars, by reducing the payrolls of all of these officers from two hundred and eighteen thousand dollars to one hundred and seventy-eight thousand dollars.

Section 2110, page forty-four, tops off fifteen thousand dollars of the total of the salaries of the Commissioners of Fisheries and Commissioners of Game and the members of the Public Service Commission, reducing a present payroll of approximately seventy-six thousand five hundred dollars to sixty-one thousand five hundred dollars.

Section 211 on page 45, a very lenient section, gentlemen, reduces the expenses of the employes of the Governor's office, the employes, from fifteen thousand five hundred dollars, to a total of thirteen thousand dollars, representing a decrease of twenty-five hundred dollars. That is nothing to write home about. I could have had more money than that about a month ago by firing one employe.

Then we come to sections 213 and 214 on pages 45 to 55 of the bill. This section of the bill would permit the Auditor General and the Treasury Department and clear on down through all of the executive departments to name deputies. In all of these departments the positions named now they carry a salary list of approximately four hundred and sixty thousand dollars. The present salary list for these places, which are specifically named in the act is four hundred and twenty-one thousand dollars; the measure therefore makes possible compulsory and statutory saving of about thirty-eight thousand five hundred dollars.

Section 215 on page 56 of the bill deals with attorneys in the Department of the Auditor General and carried a proposed salary list of seventeen thousand dollars as against the present salary list of nineteen thousand one hundred dollars, or a saving of twenty-one hundred dollars.

Section 217 on page 58 of the bill is an interesting section. This is the compensation of various non-statutory employes. The Committee on State Government hits a streak of pay dirt in this section and rolls up a considerable saving represented by salary reduction of approximately one hundred ninety-nine thousand four hundred and seventy dollars being, I believe, the exact figure, but we have only reduced our ten million dollar onion so far to nine million seven hundred and two thousand one hundred sixty.

The Governor's office, other reduction in the Governor's office, forty-four thousand three hundred and twenty dollars; in the department of the Auditor General, a decrease of ten thousand eight hundred dollars, and in the Treasury Department a decrease of a thousand dollars, and so on through the Departments of Banking, making nine thousand dollars in the Department of Health, nine thousand dollars, a total of one hundred ninety-nine thousand dollars. That is the way Section 217 totals according to my schedule.

Section 301 on page 63 picks up another thousand dollars, cutting the compensation of the secretary of the Game Commission that much.

Section 303 on page 64, nicks off the counsel and the marshall of the Public Service Commission of one thousand and eighty dollars, the counsel bearing one thousand dollars and the marshall eighty.

Section 402 on page 68, after analysis, appears to yield a saving of four hundred and twenty dollars in the compensation of the employes of the Retirement Fund by cutting them from four thousand and twenty to thirty-six hundred.

Section 405, beginning at the bottom of page 69, there is another thousand dollars at the expense of the secretary of Finance and Revenue.

And now we come to Section 408 on page 74. It is this section that originally aroused my interest in House Bill No. 22. When House Bill No. 22 appeared in pink, it abolished the absurd Board of Censors. That suggestion was to me a well spring of hope in the Legislative desert, but alas the pink bill has vanished and House Bill parades in virgin white and the Board of Censors has been retired to an oasis of purity in an otherwise tawny world and by the provisions of that section there is a saving of forty-five hundred dollars.

Section 409 on page 74 yields another thousand dollar cut in the salary of the secretary of the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund. That is a cut from six thousand to five thousand dollars.

Where do we stand now? We have still nine million seven hundred forty-nine thousand dollars of our financial onion left.

Section 410 on page 75 yields another three hundred dollars in the salary of the secretary of the Pennsylvania Historical Association. That is a reduction from eighteen hundred to fifteen hundred dollars for the truth of history and the accuracy of the annals, and I appeal to you to restore the secretary's salary to what it was.

Sections 411 through to 425, 426 to 430 deals with the fees paid members of various examining boards. The reductions in this field of human activity yields a reduction of thirteen thousand dollars. Personally I would abolish some of the boards and save twice as much money.

Section 427 represents another disappointment. The lady in pink abolishes the State Athletic Commission. The lady in virginal white reinstates it. The payroll of the commission, however, is cut from eighteen thousand to eleven thousand four hundred representing a saving of six thousand six hundred dollars.

Section 429 on page 91 of the bill picks up five thousand and forty dollars by reducing the appropriation allotted to the Securities Commission for salaries of its members and secretary.

Now we come to Section 438 on page 95, the total salaries paid to mine inspectors is cut from two hundred forty-four thousand eight hundred dollars to two hundred and four thousand dollars, making a saving of twenty thousand eight hundred dollars.

Section 440 on page 97 effects the salaries paid in the Workmen's Compensation referees of fifteen thousand dollars. Another saving of two thousand five hundred dollars is effected by Section 442 on page 98, which reduces the salary paid the manager of the State Workmen's Insurance force from seventy-five hundred dollars to five thousand dollars, a saving of twenty-five hundred dollars, although on that particular job a twenty-thousand-a-year man might be a good buy.

Section 445, paragraph (g) on page 102 effects an estimated saving of four hundred and eighty dollars a year in the compensation paid to members of the Industrial Board.

And how many layers have we peeled off of our onion by this time? How much remains to be absorbed? The total ahead of us is nine million six hundred and fifty thousand and ninety-two dollars.

I am not so sure that this bill in point of the promises that this bill puts forth to the people of Pennsylvania, my people back home, expect the Johnstown Chamber of Commerce expects when it sends me a telegram urging me to vote affirmatively on House Bill No. 22, which they think will automatically, by this measure, save ten million dollars. Knowing the Johnstown Chamber of Commerce as I do, and knowing it has not been right on an important issue for forty years, I am going to disregard its advice.

According to my figures we save approximately three hundred and sixty thousand dollars, or not more than four hundred thousand dollars, some of the items being controversial because I believe in some of the items which have been revised increase instead of decreasing, but House Bill No. 22 gives us four hundred thousand dollars on our way to ten million dollars.

Now, let us see what we have to do to get ten million dollars by administrative reform and payroll changes. Let us reduce the payroll of the Department of Welfare, not twenty per cent, not fifty per cent, but ninety per cent. By doing that we will save five hundred and forty thousand dollars. We have not got our ten million dollars yet. Then let us cut the Department of Labor payroll fifty per cent, and what do we save; we save nine hundred and fifty-six thousand dollars. Now let us proceed to abolish the Governor and his entire office payroll, and what do we save? We save three hundred and seventy thousand dollars more.

Now let us fire all the judges, every judge in the State, and what do we save? We save millions, gentlemen, millions, but on the payroll alone we would save five million and forty-eight thousand dollars.

Then cut the Department of Health by one-half that now receives two million four hundred and forty-four thousand dollars to one million two hundred and twenty-two thousand dollars, and you will save one million two hundred and twenty thousand dollars, but with all of these reductions we are still shy one million four hundred and sixty-five thousand five hundred and forty-seven dollars from having peeled our onion down to the core.

The saving of four hundred thousand dollars is a most desirable thing, but I submit to this House that in order to reduce salaries it is not necessary to pass a code that places mischievious fingers upon more than one State department and does not create a board capable under the anticipation of the sponsor of this bill of gratifying present abuses.

For these reasons, because of the publicity and the propaganda back of this measure, has deceived the people, because this prospectus is in error in spirit and misleading in phrasing, I shall oppose this bill.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware advise the House to what extent the amendment of the measure, so far as it concerns the Executive Board will affect or influence the creation by the measure of statutory bureaus and statutory deputies?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I do not consider that the amendment taking out or changing the Executive Board from the five elective offices and taking the six appointees of the Governor would make any change in the set ups of the bureaus or deputies; they are fixed in the act.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, does the gentlman from Delaware mean by his answer that although the Executive Board, will be eliminated that the measure, if enacted into law will create statutory bureaus, statutory deputies, that limit the salary of the incumbents of those offices?

Mr. TURNER. I do. Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STERLING. Will the gentleman advise the House, Mr. Speaker, to what extent, if any, the removal of the provision with respect to the Executive Board will affect sections 215 and 512 and any other sections of the proposed measure, which authorize the Auditor General and the State Treasurer to employ counsel to advise these respective offices on questions involving legal difficulties?

Mr. TURNER. I have not perused all of the sections, as you have called them off, but I assume that you are referring to those sections which give the right to the Auditor General and the State Treasurer to employ their own counsel. I would say that the change in the Executive Board would make no change in their ability to employ their own counsel, or their right to employ their own counsel. There is this question, however, which would have to be determined as to the compensation of those attorneys that might be employed for extra litigation—not attorneys within the departments, because the salaries of those attorneys are fixed by the act, but if they had to employ attorneys for litigation and the amount was to be paid by the State, my recollection is that it requires the approval of the Executive Board as set up in the act, and that it would, therefore, not be fair to the Executive Board, as appointed by the Governor himself alone to pass on that question of compensation for such services.

Mr. STERLING. Do I understand, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware to say that the change in the measure with respect to the Executive Board effects no change in this provision relating to the employment of counsel by two fiscal officers of the Commonwealth.

Mr. TURNER. I would say yes, and I believe that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want, first, to pay my very profound tribute to the gentleman from Delaware, in the prodigious, faithful, effort that he has made in attempting to bring to this House a measure through which economies in State Government might be effected.

I want to take this occasion also to pay to him and to the leader of the State Organization my particular respect in recognizing the great importance that the basic form of our State Government shall not be destroyed or sacrificed for the sake of economy, however great that economy may be.

I have always been proud that I am a Republican. I have always been proud that on many occasions I have taken this floor to support measures that have been sponsored by the Republican Organization, but I am especially happy tonight to know that we have Republican leaders in this Commonwealth of profound sagacity, sagacity which has taught them with respect to this measure to see the light as the light should be seen, because if the provisions with respect to the Executive Board had been retained in this measure, it would have challenged the good reputation of this Commonwealth, it would have challenged the constitution, and more especially it would have challenged the public confidence in the great Republican party of the greatest Republican State in the Union. But, however happy I am in this respect, I find myself still in the difficult position that I cannot support this measure, because the answers to the questions which have been given to me by my friend from Delaware, still indicate to me that if this measure is passed the basic form of the government of the Commonwealth is changed and I submit to the House that the changes in the basic form of government as proposed by this measure are too great a price for us to pay for the ecomonies which it seeks to project.

You may ask me wherein do I find objection to this measure. In the first place, according to the answers made to my questions, the bill establishes statutory bureaus and then it follows by establishing statutory offices. As I understand the theory of good government, I am told that only by flexibility in government, only by elasticity in government, can efficiency and economy be found. I am told that where you have rigidity in the form of government, you have excessive costs and inefficiency. How does this point relate to the bill before you? This measure in the early sections, actually established bureaus in the state government, statutory bureaus, and then it proceeds to establish statutory officers. This Commonwealth was saddled with just that kind of condition back beyond 1923, and the excesses that occurred under that situation are history in this Commonwealth, of which we must not be proud. If we were to put this bill upon the books, every session of the Legislature may meet and eliminate a bureau, add another bureau, add a statutory office, remove a statutory office and before many sessions of the Legislature pass your whole state government will be not unlike the jig-saw puzzle that today gives us so much entertainment and often great difficulty.

I submit to you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House that this measure should not have the approval of the House, so long as it contains those provisions which seek to set up statutory bureaus and statutory offices but even if I could conceive that these points are not dangerous I find it difficult to accept the provisions of this bill which relate to the appointment by the Auditor General and the State Treasurer of attorneys to represent them.

Concerning that question I ask your indulgence for a little while, until I trace for you some of the history as it relates to the office of the Attorney General.

The office of the Attorney General is probably the oldest office of all of the offices of the Commonwealth. It may be traced to provincial government. It goes back to the colonial days, even before the time when we had a Governor. Singular as it may seem, the Constitution under which we now operate does not define the duties of the Attorney General, and from the very earliest days down to 1857, the Attorney General's Office functioned under what is commonly known as the common law powers and duties, and these common law powers and duties vested him with the authority to act as the legal advisor for all departments, boards and commissions in this Commonwealth.

In 1857 the Legislature enacted a law, which provided that the Attorney General shall receive as his compensation the sum of three thousand dollars per year for all of his services rendered to the Auditor General, the State Treasurer, the Surveyor General (now the Secretary of Internal Affairs), and the Canal Commissioners. From 1857 down to 1915, the Attorney General acted continuously as the legal advisor for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for all of the department heads, the boards and the commission, including the Auditor General and the State Treasurer. Only in a few instances in that period of time was there any disagreement between the fiscal officers and the Attorney General's Office with respect to legal advice, but in 1915 the Legislature passed a very complete act of assembly defining specifically the duties and powers of the Attorney General, and at the same time providing that the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth, the Auditor General and the State Tresaurer were obliged to take advice from the Attorney General. This question has been in the courts or at least at that time was in the courts and the courts have sustained the act of 1915. Then we come down to 1924, immediately following the reenactment of the act of 1915 in the administrative code, and there in a case known as Commonwealth v. Powell, the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth finally concluded by its decision, that it was the obligation of the Auditor General and the State Treasurer whenever in need of legal advice, to take the advice of the Attorney General, who was recognized as the official attorney for the Commonwealth.

No less important in the efficient administration of the State government than is the executive board as we now have it under the act of 1929, is this question concerning counsel for the Commonwealth.

You may ask what does this measure do, the measure now before you, with respect to attorneys for the Auditor General and the State Treasurer as it may affect the office of the Attorney General. It does this, it says, nothwithstanding the fact that the Attorney General is the legal adviser and lawyer for the Commonwealth, the State Treasurer and the Auditor General, both of whom are officers in the Executive branch of the government, may, if they so desire, employ counsel of their own choice, and you may find this condition: a contractor may have been awarded a contract to complete a building for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, after the Attorney General has approved the contract. He may proceed to expend large sums of money in the completion of this project, and he may then present what we will call his first requisition to the Auditor General and State Treasurer for payment on account of the contract. For reasons best known unto themselves either the Auditor General or State Treasurer may conclude that there is some doubt as to the legality of this contract before them and decide to employ counsel on their own account. Proceeding thus to employ counsel on their own account, they obtain from their counsel an opinion which is contrary to the opinion offered by the Attorney General. Does it not become obvious to you that just as you dare not have a division of authority with respect to the administrative work of the State government, you must not have a division of authority on legal questions involving the departments, boards and commissions of the State government and does it not become obvious to you that the contractor whom I have just described stands to lose under such a system, and that anybody else to whom moneys may be due from the State government, may on the one hand have the legal opinion of the Attorney General he s justly entitled to receive the compensation due him and on the other hand have the legal opinion of the specially chosen lawyers of the Auditor General and the State Treasurer telling him that he is not entitled to have that money.

That provision of the bill, in my opinion, will lead to confusion and the chaos that existed prior to 1915, and I submit to the House that if for no other reason than those I have now described to you, this bill should not have your approval this evening. May I turn to my friend from Delaware, in whom I have the utmost confidence, and plead with him just as he has agreed to remove from this measure those provisions which it now contains with respect to the Executive Board, that he in his wisdom and sagacity as a good lawyer of staunch reputation, will pause in advancing this bill to a vote this evening, and in that time of pause remove from the measure these additional objectionable features, particularly the ones that I have spoken, on, so that we may go forward with our work and complete promptly the programs as they are presented to us.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't want to occupy much of the time, but I think it would be amiss if some explanation were not to come from me in my position as Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

I noted with a great deal of interest the remarks of the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Rhodes. He criticized the figures as presented by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, comparing them with the figures presented by the Governor. The gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Rhodes, will recall the extraordinary session of 1932. No doubt he well recalls the day that we laid on the Governor's desk the proposed economy and the legislative program as of 1931. He came flying over from the corner of the building with wrath in his eyes to the extent that he criticized the membership of the Committee and told them that we were imbeciles, acting in the type of some insane person, that he had scrutinized the act of 1931 and it was impossible to save more than five million dolars. When we had completed our program and laid it upon the Governor's desk, to which he himself agreed before it was presented to him, an economy had been effected of sixteen million dollars plus. That is the answer to the gentleman from Monroe when he says that he would like to know who is right and who is wrong. That is history, and it stands on the statute books of the extraordinary session of 1932.

Permit me, ladies and gentlemen of the House, to tell you that much of the construction in arranging the General Appropriation Bill which I hope to present sometime during the morning session in this House was built with the utmost serious consideration upon the plan of economy about which I think every member of this House, both ladies and gentlemen, if they had a particular contest in their legislative districts, bespoke freely that they stood for economy. But they didn't tell them at that time that that economy would be measured and based upon partisan lines, but they were for economy in government.

My friends, let me say this to you, there has not been a member of this House who has an appropriation bill for a State-aided hospital in his district who has not appealed to me and asked if it would not be possible to get that institution a little more money. Nor is there a hospital in Pennsylvania today that is not in the red. That goes for each and every one of us who are interested in the hospitals in our home communities, and if we cannot determine on a line of economy, call it what you will, Democratic or Republican, we will then be unable to find a way that we can give your institutions relief which they so urgently need. If there is no economy and we are going to continue the creation of bureaus, commissions and departments, then the answer is only one thing, to send the appropriation bill out with all this money against your dire liability of not receiving the income that is anticipated, because if the anticipated income falls below that of 1931 and 1933, that is now estimated at between thirty and forty million dollars, then I say that the decrease in the anticipated income for 1933 to 1935 will far exceed that unless a condition presented itself better than we have today.

So, ladies and gentlemen, let us be fair and reasonable with ourselves. We must start somewhere. Economy is not a word of expression simply by mouth, but it must be real and sincere. I agree with ever man and lady within the hearing of my voice that economy is all right as long as it doesn't affect me. We are always ready to tell the other fellow how to save but do we practice that same thing ourselves? Fundamentally economy hurts everybody, it has hurt you and it has hurt me; it has hurt you in your private life and business life, and you have had to take it on the chin and like it.

It is necessary that we find a way out, we must find it, and we must accept something and we must hurt somebody, and that somebody is many, and I hope, ladies and gentlemen, in the spirit of real government you will accept House Bill No. 22 in its provisions with the understanding, and I say this for the gentleman from Delaware, for whom I hold no brief, that you may take it at his face value, and if he tells you that he will have a provision, or he will provide for the means for an amendment in the Senate, I say to you, ladies and gentlemen, you can bet a hundred dollars to a nickle he will do it. You can take it from his word of honor, and for five sessions I have not heard him lie when he made a promise. I don't want this turned into a mutual admiration society, because it is not that, but I am appealing to you in the sense of economy again, let us start somewhere and let us pass this bill and let us put it on the books so we can go home and tell our people that we tried to do the best that we could for them, that if we could not save more than the General Appropriation Bill carries, it was because we did not want to destroy our government. I hope you will vote for this bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, after the length of time that has been devoted to the measure before you I hesitate to arise again and address you. However, I think in fairness to me that you members of the House will grant me the opportunity to answer some of the things that have been said by the battery of antagonists that have arisen against this bill.

The gentleman from Cambria, that distinguished editor, whom I think some few days ago told us on the floor of the House that he was not an economist, and which it was proven that he was not, when he said this bill should be voted down because it will save the despicable sum of seven hundred and forty-two thousand dollars, proceeded to set out the amounts of money that would be saved according to his statistics.

The gentleman from Cambria didn't take into consideration as far as I could hear, and I followed him very attentively, that there was a reduction of eighty bureaus effected by this bill; he didn't say anything about the saving by the consolidation of the Bureau of Statistics in one central statistical bureau. He didn't say anything about the inspections that would be cut out in some of the departments, he didn't say anything about the curtailment of the making of rules and regulations for unlimited power of the department; he didn't say anything about deficits that appear here, hidden away in appropriation bills and budgets that arise because the budgetary control that is set up in House Bill No. 22 does not exist in the Commonwealth today. He didn't say anything about the special bureau of statistics that will give to the Legislature within three weeks after its term begin the kind of figures that the Legislture is interested in. There is no member of this House who has served on committees in the past where we needed official statistics but knows the difficulty we have had in securing the correct statistics. All of these things and many more I just noted at random as he ran along.

In three hundred and thirty pages of this bill he assumes to say there is only a saving of seven hundred and forty-two thousand dollars at most, against the evidence of the men who have worked and striven hard for this bill, and the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, and will say to you that on this structure he has planned a bill that is saving many millions of dollars.

The gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Rhodes, wanted to know where in this bill we are saving the taxpayers at home any money. I never said we were saving the taxpayers through this bill, but I would like to ask the gentleman from Monroe this, because he has given some consideration to school affairs, I would like to ask him if there is not need for more money for schools, and whether if we do not effect economies we will be able to appropriate that money to the schools, and which means an increased burden back home? Is that saving the local taxpayers, Mr. Rhodes?

Then he wants to know in that old political injunction, where the Auditor General and the State Treasurer have been affected by the establishment of the Executive Board. If he had studied the bill and the provisions pertaining to the Executive Board, he would have found that this committee, as I said before, was honest in its consideration and it made the Auditor General and the State Treasurer, come under every provision of that Executive Board that it applied to the Governor of Pennsylvania. The Auditor General and the State Treasurer do not now have to come under the classification of minimum and maximum salaries set up by the Executive Board, but by this bill the Executive Board would have; they would be brought under the control of that Executive Board and to set up their classification of maximum and minimum salaries the same as the others. If you want to control the amount of expenditures of this government you have to control that question of the classification of maximum and minimum salaries. That is the joker that is put over on the Legislature by the departments. That is the way bureaus are built up, classifications are increased and people go from a division head to a bureau chief, and then an ordinary stenographer at eleven hundred dollars a year becomes the secretary to the bureau chief at eighten hundred dollars a year. How are you ever going to control the expenditures of government, and that is your duty and mine to the people of Pennsylvania, to control these expenditures. We are the legislative power and under all the precepts of government the Legislature must control the xpenditure of money or democracy is destroyed.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, has said that he does not like the provisions for statutory bureaus, and the statutory fixing of the number of deputies and bureau chiefs and he says that makes it inflexible, but ladies and gentlemen, the experience of men who have sat on these committees as opposed to the experience of the gentleman from Philadelphia, and I do not say that in sarcasm, because I think everyone knows the association between the gentleman from Philadelphia and myself, which dates back to the day we went to college together, and I have for him and he has for me the highest respect, but he is saying to you, because he believes in the theory of government that places everything in the hands of the executive, that he thinks that this will make it inflexible, but I say to you and the men who have served on these committees, and who are experienced members of the Legislature, that it is time we control these matters and we cut down some of the power that is given to the Executive to expand these bureaus with unlimited power. I am very certain, ladies and gentlemen of this House, that the gentleman from Philadelphia believes it to be right to stand on this floor and argue the question of the appointment of attorneys by the Auditor General and State Treasurer.

They asked me if I would not consent to that coming out of this bill, but I say to you with all sincerity that I made a pledge when we left the Legislature in 1932 that if I was ever elected by the people of my county to serve in this Legislature again, that was one thing that was going to be changed.

The Legislature, and I do not like to enter this because I am afraid of the length of time it is going to take, but the Legislature in 1931 Special Session provided ten million dollars for unemployment relief with the idea that we had the money in view to pay it, but in the spring of that year when the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania handed down the decision reversing the Attorney General and saying that we were right in our contention that the state could appropriate money for unemployment relief, immediately to defeat the purpose of the legislautre the Governor abated the appropriations to the hospitals to bring down the wrath of the people upon all those who opposed his will, and then the Attorney General contrary to the opinion of many attorneys well learned in the law, contrary to the opinion and the decision of the Supreme Court as handed down by Mr. Justice Kephart, said these appropriations must be abated.

If the Auditor General and the State Treasurer had an attorney such as is now provided for in this bill, and had their own attorneys, I am convinced that there never would have been a special session of the Legislature in 1932 and the taxpayers of Pennsylvania would have saved the thousands of dollars that that cost. Is that not in itself a sufficient reason to put it within the bill.

The Auditor General and the State Treasurer are elected officers, they are fiscal officers set up as checks upon the government of Pennsylvania to control the funds, to audit them and to pay them out, and they are checks upon all of the fiscal affairs of the government. Why should they as independent elective officers be subject to the opinion of the Attorney General while the Attorney General looks for his appointment only to the Governor of the Commonwealth? Why should we not carry out the idea of the framers of the Constitution and the constitutents who elected these officers? Why should they not have the right to have their own attorneys even if in some instances it might raise some differences of opinion.

I think the gentleman from Philadelphia can tell you, and if he does he will have to say that the chaos about which he talked before 1915, that it was a very rare instance where there was a difference of opinion between the Auditor General and the other departments and the Auditor General employed his own counsel.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, without disparaging anybody, without any criticisms of the present Attorney General, I think the people of Pennsylvania are entitled to the provision within this act, and if we are to properly set up the checks and balances which every government should have in the control of its fiscal affairs this provision should stay in the bill and ought to be a very great reason why you should vote for it.

I would just like to close with this remark to you, ladies and gentlemen of the House. This bill has been a sort of Orphan Annie. Evberybody has taken a poke at it for the last three months. It is not a popular measure. I know that. Anyone who sponsored it certainly could not be seeking popularity. It has met with the condemnation of every group that was interested, particularly of those in the social service and with every group, with every group that was particularly interested in some bureau or department. It has had the insidious under ground criticism from those who are going to feel the cut.

Within the hearing of my voice on the floor of this House there are the representatives of boards and State-owned institutions who have come here and are lobbying against this bill and are saying to the members of this House to vote against this bill because it cuts down the salary of some people employed in their institutions. I know that because members of this House have said to me "I would like to vote for this bill, but the employes of the State institutions at home are hauling and pulling at me." I know two months ago that this bill would meet the haul and pull of every special interest to prevent taking something out of it with which they were concerned.

And that, Mr. Rhodes, is the reason this bill had the publicity it had, because I know and knew then that this bill could never get across unless the people back home got behind it told you people what they wanted you to do. Even today a capitol policeman, and I cannot conceive how in any way a capitol policeman would be interested in this bill, removed a parking sign and asked a member of the Legislature to vote against House Bill No. 22.

Now, my friends, this is the situation. You try to make a cut in the cost of education, and immediately you will receive thousands of telegrams and letters saying that you cannot make a cut in education, you have to give them more. We said, "Maybe we can take a little of the service away from the Department of Labor and Industry," and immediately, all these representatives say that you cannot cut any of its service; these are the most important things now in spite of the fact there is no labor and industry. In fact they say that there is more need in this period of depression in the Department of Labor and Industry, there must be more inspection, there must be more investigations. Then again we turn to agriculture, and we thought that possibly some saving could be made in the expenses of examinations and tests of the healthfulness of domestic animals, but immediately they say, "Oh, no, you don't want your children to get tubercular milk, the farmer is starving now as it is, he cannot get enough for his product for to pay his taxes." Then we turned to the Department of Welfare, and thought possibly we could make a saving in some of this social service, and immediately they say, "If you do that you will take Pennsylvania back twenty-five years." Why, these good ladies, and here are the ones that did climb the back of my neck in droves and said, "You cannot take Pennsylvania back twenty-five years, you cannot do away with this essential social service in times like these. Then we said, "Well, if we can't cut the Department of Welfare, we will have to go to the Department of Health." The Department of Health said, "No, you can't do that, or you will have an epidemic, and in times like this of depression and malnutrition if you curtail this service you will have epidemics of typhoid fever and other epidemics.

So you can go down the line from one end of this Government to the other, and no place can you cut. Every place you go you are met by that group of special interest and I want to know whether you men sitting here in this House, whether you are going to listen to the special interest and the State employes who care more for their jobs than they do for the people back home. Why listen to these people and not listen to the people who are suffering in this depression. How patient they have been in this depression; how they have gone along as American citizens living under our government intent on orderly government? How long will they continue that patience; how long will they do it when asking you for a reduction in the cost of government and you turn your ear away to listen to the special interest, to the social service workers and the job holder who thinks he has some strategical hold on you after the contribution of a few votes.

I saw this House in 1931 within an hour after the Governor stood on that rostrum and told us that we were wrong and that we could not give ten million dollars to the people, and I saw this House in a mighty surge of patriotism arise almost as one man and woman and pass that bill. I wish tonight there were given to me some kind of eloquence that would convince you this is not a personal matter. This is not my personal bill. This is the bill of the group of men who have worked upon it. Your defeat of this bill tonight is not my defeat, you are defeating the people back home, and by your vote tonight they will know it.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am reluctant to continue this debate, but I feel that it is incumbent upon me to answer the question of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, when he asked where adequate funds may come from for school purpose. I think that question is very easily answered. If we would revise the method of collecting our State taxes, we could save between seven and eight million dollars every year. On the other hand we are willing to cut here and there, to cut the little fellow, but we are not willing to do anything to eliminate the thirty to forty-thousand-dollar-a-year official; the men who are already receiving large salaries. In the Dorrance Estate, I have merely to recall that the Register of Wills received approximately fifty thousand dollars fees merely for the purpose of transferring a check from his office to Harrisburg. Now, if we are for real economy, why don't we cut out these excessive fees of political jobs and save seven or eight million dollars of State funds. That don't need any new taxes, but it does need efficiency and economy in the collection of those taxes that are now on the statute books. Therefore, I think, if we want to function with some real economy, some honest-to-goodness economy, we should cut out this camouflage where men are getting salaries of thirty to forty thousand dollars a year in addition to what they are paid under the statute. It seems to me that there is something fundamentally wrong. We tolerate that, why? Because if we made any changes in the collection of those taxes it would mean the elimination of political jobs, it would mean the disorganization of political organizations, and that is the reason that it is not done. Therefore, let us get down to brass tacks and if we want real economy let us start with things of that kind.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 948 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. STEEDLE offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 3, 1933.

Resolved (If the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 948, entitled "An act making an appropriation of moneys in the Motor License Fund to the Board of Finance and Revenue to meet interest and Sinking Fund requirements on the State debt" be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER REVISION OF STATE WORKMENS' INSURANCE FUND RATES

Mr. HABBYSHAW offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, April 3, 1933.

The committee on unemployment of the House of Representatives in its report has strongly endorsed work relief as preferable to any other type of relief.

Many municipalities and quasi-municipalities in this Commonwealth, in conjunction with relief authorities, have instituted public improvements to create projects to make work available.

In the prepondering majority of such cases the municipality or quasi-municipality had no right to hire labor, to specify how much labor was to be hired, to discharge labor, or to specify how many days per week such labor was to be employed, but the relief authorities assigned to such work applicants for relief who would otherwise be entitled to, and would receive direct relief, and issued food, fuel and clothing orders in consideration of such employment.

The majority of such municipalities and quasi-municipalities carry insurance in the State Workmen's Insurance Fund covering their ordinary employes.

On or about March 24, 1933, the State Workmen's Insurance Fund mailed to such municipalities a letter and an endorsement of which the following are copies:

"Re: Policy ————————

In view of the liability which has arisen as the result of the use of Emergency Unemployment Relief Labor, the Pennsylvania Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau found it necessary to revise the rate to take care of this additional liability.

Therefore, the policy now held by you issued by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, in addition to covering your regular employes, is hereby endorsed to take care of the labor furnished by local Welfare Committees. The rate applicable to this type of employment has been set at $1.00 per week per person. It is necessary that an accurate account be kept of the number of men employed each week, and this report submitted to the State Workmen's Insurance Fund monthly. The premium charge will be billed on a monthly basis and a check for the premium will have to be forwarded to our office upon the receipt of the bill.

Within the next week or ten days, an Auditor from the State Workmen's Insurance Fund will call on you to audit your payroll from January 1st, 1933, to the present time, to determine the number of men employed on which to enable us to arrive at a premium charge. After the audit has been completed, a bill will be presented indicating the amount of additional premium due as the result of this type of labor.

Yours very truly,
STATE WORKMEN'S INSURANCE FUND."

SPECIAL ENDORSEMENT COVERING EMERGENCY RELIEF EMPLOYMENT

"The Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Act is now interpreted to include welfare workers as employes of the political division or institution for which work is done and liability under the Compensation Act for these employes, by virtue of this endorsement, is undertaken by the policy to which this endorsement is attached. Premium shall be computed per person employed for any length of time in each week, under the following classification and premium charge:

'981, Welfare Workers-Emergency Relief employment-premium charge $1.00 per week per person, irrespective of the period of employment.'

"The employer covered by this policy, in consideration of insurance of liability provided by this endorsement, agrees to keep a record of the persons employed for any length of time during each week and to pay a premium in accordance with the terms of this endorsement.

"This endorsement is effective January 1st, 1933, and is attached to any forms a party of Policy No. ..... issued by STATE WORKMEN'S INSURANCE FUND to ....of .....

"Dated at Harrisburg, Pa., this 24th day of March, 1933."

STATE WORKMEN'S INSURANCE FUND

.....Manager.

The prohibitive rate made retroactive by such ruling for a period of three months creates an unanticipated and unjust burden upon such municipalities and quasi-municipailties which many will be unable to pay without increased taxation on an already overburdened citizenry.

The ruling if sustained will result in the absolute cessation of work relief in such municipalities and quasi-municipalities as carry compensation insurance in the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives that a committee of five members be appointed by the Speaker of the House to which this rsolution shall be immediately referred with the recommendation that such committee give urgent attention to remedial action.

RESOLUTION No. 62

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up Resolution No. 62, Printer's No. 335.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 28, 1933.

Whereas The first duty of the Commonwealth is to safeguard the people and to make secure the lives and liberities and the happiness of the men women and children whose industry and existence is at all times essential to the peace and good order of the same and

Whereas No people can be free and equal before the law when the right of petition and representation is denied them by the mere will and caprice of any existing majority in their State Assembly and

Whereas We are confronted at this time with an existing condition of State wide unemployment which has deprived large portions of our population in our large cities and elsewhere of their accustomed means of livelihood and impoverish and seriously menace the stability of our homes and our financial and industrial activities and sufficiently endanger our existing political institutions and

Whereas It is deemed desirable at this time that the right of petition and the right of representation be made more general and secure in this session and all bills and resolutions introduced and the sponsors thereof given an opportunity to be heard therefore be it

Resolved That Rule number forty of this House of Representatives be amended by striking out the last seven words which are as follows "majority vote of all the members elect" and inserting in lieu thereof the following eighty votes of all the members elect and placed upon the calendar" so that the section as amended will read as follows

No 40 That when a bill or resolution has been ten days in the hands of a committee after having been referred to it any committee may be discharged from the further consideration of the bill or resolution by a eighty votes of all the members elect and placed upon the calendar

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have done this after long and serious consideration. I, nevertheless, have done it conscientiously, and I believe it is a resolution that should have consideration at this time. I believe there is a good many bills that have merit, not only in committee, but I feel that with eighty required to dismiss the committee, that we could get many of these bills out and they could be passed. I cannot understand why we should have a majority of the number elect before we can dismiss the committee on surveys of bills we know can pass. While we might get a majority to vote for a bill, we cannot get a majority to vote for the dismissal of a committee. I don't intend to make any long speech on this, but I ask that the House support this resolution. Mr. Speaker, I would ask for a roll call.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a very important resolution and affects the present rules of the House as they were adopted on January 3rd, at the time this House was organized. Under the provisions of Rule No. 40, the discharge of a committee from further consideration of a bill is effectuated by a vote of a constitutional majority, and that majority at the present time, by resolution of this House, is one hundred and four members. If this resolution is adopted, that number will be changed from one hundred and four to eighty. In observing the workings of Rule No. 40, I submit to this House that it is a proper rule for this House to continue, and the same arguments apply in favor of the rule as it at present exists as when made by me before this House on January 3rd. Our calendars are now overburdened with bills. If this resolution is adopted the effect of it will be that on a vote of eighty members of the House a bill can be taken from a committee and the same discharged from further consideration. It requires the vote of one hundred and four members to pass a bill, and the effect of this resolution would be simply to clutter the calendar with a multitude of bills drawn from committees properly considering them, and that there would be no reasonable supposition that the bills would receive favorable consideration eventually. I therefore ask you to vote down this resolution.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, may I endeavor by a careful, logical argument, to point out to the members of this House the foolishness of the endeavor to pass this resolution. Even in the interest of economy, I take it that you will agree with me that by permitting the minority to bring bills out of committee would result in a great number of bills being brought out on which they would not be able to muster the necessary majority for passage, and so merely increase the cost of printing and the expenses of this House.

But let me pass that aside, and let us forget for the second the argument in the interest of economy, and let me point out to you, if you will, those of the minority, how foolish this resolution is.

A motion is made to discharge the committee, less than the majority, to wit, eighty vote to get the bill out of committee, and the bill is then reported out. Now, members of the House, you cannot get away from the majority rule. The majority then will move immediately to table the bill or recommit it into committee. Then what have you done? The majority has voted that the bill shall not be further considered. The result is that you have taken up the time of this House to discuss the proposition and after extended debate and argument assume that a bill be reported out and you have succeeded, but when you succeed, members of the House, are you successful? The answer is "No." Why? Because in every government, in every organization and in every walk of life the majority must rule.

I am with the minority if there is something to be gained If you can accomplish anything by getting eighty persons to vote to bring a bill out, then I may say you are right.

But try to establish the right of that minority and if your vote is ninety to eighty the majority would immediately send that bill back.

We are all for economy and you now can discharge a committee if the majority wants it discharged; you can do so. Let us not fool ourselves, but let us be wise men and women, as

I know you are, and let us not vote for a resolution that will clog the machinery of this Legislature. I sincerely say to the members of this House that the course you have heretofore adopted should be continued in effect and that it would be a very serious mistake, both from the point of view of actual economy, as well as the point of the minority of the House to attempt to accomplish what would be a mistake.

Therefore, members of the House, I ask you to vote no on the adoption of this resolution.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to answer the argument just made by the gentleman from Philadelphia. I believe that the majority can immediately recommit a bill; that of course is correct. The fact remains that many members of this House have frequently told me, and I think they have told other members of this House that they would not vote to discharge a committee, but if the bill were reported out on the floor of the House, they would vote for it. I think that is true of many members of the House. They want to stand by the rules, and do not want to vote to discharge a committee, but if the bill was out on the floor they would vote for it ,and I think that would be true of a great many labor bills with legislation having to do with the relief of unemployment.

If these bills were out on the floor the members would regard a vote as a vote on the bill and nothing else, but not upon a subsidiary motion to discharge a committee; many members would vote for it that would vote against the motion, and even your Democrats in their election say they are for the bills.

We are elected to the House of Representatives; we are the employes who represent our constituents back home. If that is true our constituents are entitled to know where we stand upon important measures and I submit that if eighty members of this House consider a bill of sufficient importance to vote to discharge the committee from further consideration thereof that this House should have a right to vote upon that bill, and the people back home should have a right to know where we stand on that bill. As the thing now stands, if the bill has been reported to a committee the majority of the members of which are opposed to that particular bill it is absolutely impossible to get a vote on the bill unless you have a majority of the House who are willing to vote to discharge that committee and up until last week it was the boast of this House that a committee had not been discharged, for I don't know how many years. But last week on the matter of the Old Age Pensions, which has been contended for up and down the State for the past twenty years and endorsed by leading candidates of all the political parties, we did succeed in getting a vote to discharge a committee. But on ordinary questions it is absolutely impossible and in order that we may have a fair consideration of the many bills locked up in committee it is necessary that we be permitted to get them out by less than a majority vote. For many years, I understand that the rules of the House permitted the committees to be discharged by a vote of sixty members. Some of the older members tell us that they get many bills out on the floor; that may be true, but certainly eighty members out of a total of two hundred and eight members of the House should be able to require the vote of the House on the bill itself, so I ask you to vote for this resolution and let us get some of these measures out of committee.

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when this resolution was introduced at the beginning of the session I went along with it. After being here for a period of almost three months I have seen my mistake. I have heard of pickling and everything else relative to committees. I have been an employ of a railroad corporation for approximately thirty years, and I was conceited enough to think I knew a little something about railroading, but I didn't know the first thing about it, because they railroad bills nicely here. This is a very important question, and if a bill is worth while for you members to consider it and a very good bill, it certainly should be brought out on the floor, and I ask the members of the House to vote for this resolution.

On the question recurring will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Hermansen and Mr. Hoopes.

Mr. McGRAIL. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. DWYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to file the following reason for my vote.

My reason for voting "No" is to maintain my attitude that I portrayed at the beginning of the session, voting affirmatively at the organization of the House.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1374, Printer's No. 280, entitled

An Act relating to the minimum salaries and annual increments of the teaching and supervisory staffs of the public schools granting power to the State Council of Education to permit as to certain school districts temporary reductions in the salary schedules authorizing the State Council of Education to suspend mandatory provisions of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" and of its amendments and supplements prohibiting school districts from demanding requesting or accepting gifts or donations from members of the teaching and supervisory staffs and empowering the Superintendent of Public Instruction to forfeit certain State subsidies for violations thereof relating to the effect of payment of salaries which are less than those prescribed by salary schedules and temporarily superseding any inconsistent acts and parts of acts.

was defeated on final passage on March 27, 1933, be reconsidered.

Mr. RICE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. WILSON. I voted no, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Rice, vote in the final passage of the bill?

Mr. RICE. I voted no, Mr. Speaker.

The motion was agreed to. .

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill was defeated on third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend page 1, line 3 of the title by striking out at the end of the line after the word "the" the following: "[State Council of]."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to,

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REDUCTION OF SALARIES OF STATE GOVERNMENT OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I call up at this time Senate Resolution No. 115, known as the Howell Resolution.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the Senate, February 21, 1933.

Whereas, The continuance of the economic depression has seriously affected the revenues of all forms of Government and necessitates the greatest economy and reduction in governmental costs possible in order that budgets may be balanced, and our unemployed cared for; and

Whereas, The salaries paid to public officers and employes constitute an appreciable part of the cost of government; and

Whereas, Industry and business has been forced to reduce salaries and wages in order to continue operation and provide employment; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That it is the sense of the General Assembly that the salaries, compensation and emoluments of office of all public officers and employes of the executive, legislative and judicial departments of the State government, should be reduced, and that those agencies and officers of government charged with the fixing of salaries and compensation of public employes should reduce such salaries and compensation in accordance with the provisions of this resolution;

Resolved, That all public officers of the executive, legislative and judicial departments of the State government be urged to agree voluntarily to accept reductions in their salaries, compensation and emoluments of office and return the same to the government or permit it to retain, the percentage of such salaries, compensation and emoluments of office as is provided for by this resolution;

Resolved, That it is the sense of the General Assembly that such reductions in salaries, compensation and emoluments of office should be in accordacne with the following standards:

(a) Salaries, compensation and emoluments amounting to $750 and less per annum should not be reduced.

(b) All salaries, compensation and emoluments amounting to more than $750 per annum should be reduced by an amount equal to 20 per cent. of the difference in amount between the present salary, compensation or emoluments and the sum of $750.

(c) In the case of per diem compensation, such compensation amounting to $2 per day and less should not be reduced; and such compensation amounting to more than $2 per day should be reduced by an amount equal to 20 per cent. of the difference in amount between the present per diem compensation and the sum of $2.

(d) The whole amount of the compensation of the members of the General Assembly, not already paid over should be reduced by 20 per cent.

Resolved, That it is the sense of the General Assembly that such reductions should become effective as of the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, with the exception of those effecting the compensation of the members, officers and employes of the General Assembly which should apply to all such compensation, that has not heretofore been paid.

Resolved, That in order that the General Assembly, may ascertain the amount of money which can be saved by the fore-going reductions, the Auditor General be directed to forward a copy of this resolution upon its final passage to the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, State Treasurer and Secretary of Internal Affairs, to each member of the Executive Board of the State government, to the heads of the several departments and of the several administrative boards and commissions, to each of the judges learned in the law of the Commonwealth, and to the officers and members of the General Assembly, with the request that all persons affected thereby notify the Auditor General, in writing, within two weeks of such request of the acceptance of the provisions hereof and that requisitions of salary for such persons be drawn at the reduced rates, after the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, in the case of members of the executive and judicial branches of the government, and forthwith in the case of members and attaches of the General Assembly.

Resolved, That this resolution is intended to be effective upon final passage.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, at this time I would not believe that the House is in a position to vote upon this resolution for a few very important reasons. In the first place, by its vote tonight on House Bill No. 22 there is no specific program of economy before the House. I personally do not believe that this resolution ought to be passed before we know exactly what we are doing along the line of economies from the top of the government to the bottom. In the second place much confusion exists in the House as to the validity and force of this resolution, which certainly by its wording is not binding upon those officials and officers whom it seeks to bind.

Again and another reason why I believe the House is not in a position to vote on the resolution at this time is because of the schedules of reduction it provides so far as the members of the House are concerned, that there should be a reduction of twenty per cent. from the salaries not yet paid over, which means twenty per cent. of six hundred dollars, or one hundred and twenty dollars of a reduction on a three thousand dollar salary, or a percentage reduction of four per cent. Obviously this House is not ready to take the position, that our salaries shall be reduced four per cent. and all other salaries fifteen per cent. and upwards.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the program of economy propertly starts with this resolution. Perhaps House Bill No. 22 would have had a different vote had this resolution been passed. This House may as well make up its mind now whether it wants economy and a saving in the payroll now, or economy and a saving in the sweet bye and bye.

We have the educational bills upon the calendar of this House. We are asking the school system and the teachers——

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadlephia, Mr. Witkin, will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not discussing the motion, he is discussing the merits of this bill and other bills.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The motion before the House to recommit, and the merits of the bill cannot be discussed. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the motion before the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is the motion to recommit debatable?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is informed that the motion is detable, but the merits of the bill cannot be discussed on the point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, if he knows that by recommitting this bill he hurts the entire program of economy; if he knows that no measure if he recommits this bill can come before the House and be given candid consideration if we ditch the issue this resolution presents by recommitting it. He knows that we have had this issue repeatedly before us, and we have repeatedly sidestepped it, and he knows that if he refers this bill back to committee the people of the State will consider this Legislature as sidestepping the issue of economy, and so I oppose the motion to recommit.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for the reasons already stated by my friend from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, I believe the motion to recommit this resolution should prevail.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, has pointed out to the House very properly that under Section (d) of this resolution, the members of the House, by adopting it, would unanimously agree that their salaries should be cut to the extent of four percent, at a less percentage of cut than contemplated in the entire program of cutting. I daresay there is not a man in this House who would proudly go home and confess to his constituents that he was willing to bind himself to a four percent cut, whereas he was willing that all of the other constitutional officers of the Commonwealth should take a cut averaging from ten to nineteen percent. For these reasons I believe the motion to recommit should prevail.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentlemen from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERLING. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would or not the gentleman as a parliamentarian conclude that the reduction, as far as this Legislature is concerned, should date from the time this measure came into the hands of the committee of this House.

Mr. STERLING. I would say that Section (d), if supported to the letter, the members of the House would bind themselves to accept twenty percent of the salary due, which is six hundred dollars, which resolves itself into a four percent cut.

The SPEAKER. If the gentlman from Cambria would read the last "Resolved" his question would be answered.

Mr. ANDREWS. Should not at least this measure date from the time the gentleman from Franklin introduced it?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria is informed that the last clause reads that this resolution is intended to be effective on final passage.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement.

Mr. SPEAKER and members of the House, it is my firm belief that this Legislature will negotiate legislation which will guarantee regulatory measures dealing with the question of beer and 3.2 wine in the State of Pennsylvania, but in view of the fact that that is not definite, and in further view of the fact that able legal talent has stated that there may arise a quesion as to whether or no without the passage of any regulatory law at this session of the Legislature, the Snyder-Armstrong Act is or is not legal, and due to the fact that I believe every member of this House is of the firm opinion that the law of Congress in changing the intoxicating provisions dealing with 3.2 percent beer shall be the law of the State of Pennsylvania as well as every other State of the Union, I have had prepared a bill which would amend the Synder-Armstrong Act only insofar as the bill shall say that—— I sall read it to you: "That the phrase intoxicating liquor as used in this act shall mean," and the amendment is "any liquor containing more than 3.2 per cent of alcohol by weight."

I don't want the State of Pennsylvania to be caught napping. I do not want to permit those who do not want the will of Congress to govern, subsequent to the adjournment of this Legislature, if we do not pass any act, tell us that in Pennsylvania beer is not legal, and for that reason and that reason only I would ask that this House give its unanimous consent so that we may remove if possible any doubt as to the legality of 3.2 percent beer under the Snyder-Armstrong Act.

The Legislative Reference Bureau, or Mr. Fertig, has given me an opinion, which you may have read in the newspapers, wherein he says that the argument that has been advanced had great weight and is a matter which should be considered. If the House will give its consent to its introduction so that we don't have to have it introduced in the Senate and so that we may make sure, if there is no regulatory measure passed, that there may be no question and so that the people have proper authority for the legal drinking and imbibing of 3.2 percent beer or wine.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the introduction of the bill I have referred to.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the introduction of the bill at this time? Are there objections? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

The bill will be filed with the bill clerk.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman with respect to the introduction of the bill will be spread upon the journal.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the introduction of the bill at this time? Are there objections? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

The bill will be filed with the Bill Clerk.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask at this time unanimous consent to introduce two bills which come from the Joint Legislative Committee, which represent, I believe, almost all of the bills that we will have to present to the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the introduction of the bills at this time? Are there objections? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

The bills will be filed with the Bill Clerk.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Federal Relations for the purpose of a hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the motion just made by the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, refers to House Bill No. 1668. This is one of the Joint Legislative Committee bills and comes to the House from the State Government Committee. The Chairman of that Committee was hopeful that each of the bills that now appear upon the calendar be advanced.

I want to call the attention of the gentleman from Elk to the fact that the committee to which he wants this bill referred is not a committee that has considered the bill. I hope that he will withdraw his motion to recommit. If it is committed it should go to the State Government Committee.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, then I amend my motion and move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government. I would like to be heard on this particular bill.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill 1661, as follows:

An Act to amend Section three hundred nine of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended by prescribing the method of determining the weekly wages of claimants in certain cases

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Section three hundred nine of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred forty-two) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 309 Wherever in this article the term "wages" is used it shall be construed to mean the money rate at which the service rendered is recompensd under the contract of hiring in force at the time of the accident and shall not include gratuities received from the employer or others nor shall it include amounts deducted by the employer under the contract of hiring for labor furnished or paid for by the employer and necessary for the performance of such contract by the employe but shall include board and lodging received from the employer Whenever the employe receives board and lodging as a part of his wages the board shall be rated at fifty cents per day and board together with lodging shall be rated at one dollar per day for the purpose of computing wages In seasonal occupations the employe's weekly wages shall be taken to be one-fiftieth of the total wages which he has earned from all occupations during the year immediately preceding the accident unless it be shown that during such year by reason of exceptional causes such method of computation does not ascertain fairly the earnings of the employe in which case the period for calculation shall be extended so far to give a basis for the fair ascertainment of his average weekly earnings In continuous employments if immediately prior to the accident the rate of wages was fixed by the day or hour or by the output of the employe his weekly wages shall be taken to be five and one-half times his average earnings at such rate for a working day and using as a basis of calculation his earnings during so much of the preceding six months as he worked for the same employer Provided however That if the employe regularly and habitually worked more or less than five and one-half days per week the weekly wage shall be found by multiplying his average earnings for each working day by the average number of days during each week that said employe actually worked for said employer during the period of three months immediately preceding the date of the accident for which compensation is claimed [six six and one-half or seven according to the customary number of working days constituting an ordinary week in his occupation or trade] Where the employe is working under concurrent contracts with two or more employers his wages from all employers shall be considered as if earned from the employer liable for compensation

In cases where the employe has been in the employ of the employer less than one full week and by reason of the shortness of time during which the employe has been in the employment of the employer or the nature or terms of the employment it is impracticable to ascertain the average weekly wages as hereinbfore provided the average weekly amount which during the six months previous to the injury has been earned by other persons employed by the same employer under similar contracts of hiring or if there are no persons so employed by other persons employed by other employers under similar contracts of hiring under similar conditions shall be taken as the basis for the ascertainment of the weekly wages of such employe

Section 2 This act shall become effective upon the date of its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1444 (Senate Bill No. 47), entitled:

An Act to amend section one hundred and forty-three of the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto"; changing the condition of the county treasurer's bond.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1442 (Senate Bill No. 37), entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (P. L. 408), entitled "A supplement to the twenty-fourth section of an act, entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation, approved the seventh day of June, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine,' approved the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, amending the twenty-fourth section, by providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of one-half of the two per centum tax on premiums paid by foreign insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities and boroughs within this Commonwealth," as amended; providing for additional payments to relief fund associations of fire departments and fire companies of cities, boroughs and townships which afford fire protection to adjoining boroughs and townships; providing that the burgess of boroughs and secretaries of boards of supervisors shall certify that such fire protection is afforded.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1357 (Senate Bill No. 356), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article fifteen section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That section four of article fifteen is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 4 The General Assembly is hereby authorized to provide for the consolidation of the county poor districts cities boroughs and townships of the county of Allegheny and the offices thereof into a consolidated city and county with the constitutional and legal capacity of a municipal corporation to be known as "Greater Pittsburgh" or "Metropolitan Pittsburgh" or "City of Pittsburgh (Metropolitan)" and to provide for a charter for its government and to fix the name thereof in the charter The said charter shall be submitted to the electors of said county at a special or general election to be provided for therein If the majority of the electors voting thereon in the county as a whole and at least a majority of the electors voting thereon in each of a majority of the cities boroughs and townships thereof vote in the affirmative the act shall take effect for the whole county

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. REED. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Local for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

(SPEAKER GROVER C. TALBOT IN THE CHAIR)

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to publicly thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, for his efficiency in handling the work at the desk.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER)

The SPEAKER. The hour of 2.15 having arrived the Chair lays before the House the special order fixed for this hour, being House Bill No. 1681, Printer's No. 341.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1681, entitled:

An Act to regulate and restrain the traffic in malt brewed and vinous beverages as herein defined providing for the licensing of the manufacture sale transportation and distribution of such beverages imposing taxes and license fees and providing for collection and distribution of revenues therefrom restricting ownership and interest in licensed places providing penalties and repealing existing acts

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shal lthe bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, probably no more important bill will come before you this session than the present bill.

The present bill is a revenue raiser, and it is estimated that it will raise during the next two years from twenty-four million to thirty million dollars.

he bill is before you tonight as a special order of business and needs attention tonight for that reason. Legal beer goes into effect Friday. If the bill is passed by the House tonight, it will go over to the Senate tonight and will be referred by the Senate to a committee tomorrow and then that committee will report it out and it will have first reading. It will then be referred back to a committee. I wish to say to the members of the House that the numerous objections here and there to the bill will then be ironed out in that Senate Committee and practically every objection will be met.

I ask the members of this House to vote aye on this bill and vote so with a reliance that the Senate will amend the bill to meet the wishes of everybody.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in order to expedite matters and knowing that the time is short, I will ask the Democratic members to vote for the bill as it is in the hope and with the understanding that it will be amended further in the Senate.

Mr. LEONARD P. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, due to the lateness of the hour, I am going to make my remarks brief, especially in view of Mr. Sowers' remarks on the same subject.

I do want to say, however, that I consider this one of the most important bills before the House.

We have been wrangling on this bill for a period of six weeks. There have been several propositions submitted. We considered commission forms, and after going into the statistics, we found that they were not very practicable.

We also considered the question of dividing the state into several sections. We found that it would be impossible to appoint commissions to cover these different sections on account of taking in five or six or ten or more counties, and finally the committee agreed on this bill, House Bill No. 1681, which is known as the Sowers-Conner bill.

There are several controversial matters between the Governor's bill and this bill. The Governor has seen fit to criticize this bill. The Governor's plan corresponds to ours in a great many details, word for word, but there are two or three points with which he does not agree; that is, the form of licensing and how to get licenses.

Under the Governor's plan he proposes that the Department of Revenue shall issue the licenses. He is quoted as saying that these licenses could be issued the same as automobile plates. I think you will all agree with me that that plan would not be practicable. All that would be necessary there would be to enclose ten or fifteen dollars with your application and mail it on here to Harrisburg.

He also proposes that licenses be granted to grocery stores, delicatessen, barbecue and weiner stands and drug stores. If that plan were adopted I think the beer gardens would grow up more enormously in the future than the Tom Thumb golf courses did in the past few years.

In regard to licensing grocery stores, I have reliable information that at the present time one of the large chain stores has an option on a brewery down east, and if they are granted a permit to sell beer they will put it on the market at cost or even below cost in order to get additional patronage. That would force our local brewers out of business, they would be compelled to close their plants and dismiss the employes that they have at the present time.

In regard to giving licenses to delicatessen stores and confectionery stores, I merely dwell on that matter because I think you will agree with me that it is not practicable. We all know that the usual meeting house for high schools is usually a confectionery store, and I don't think that any member of this House would want to see beer sold there.

Our plan is to give it o the judges of the county courts, because we feel that the citizens of Pennsylvania have respect and confidence in their judges. There will not be any politics played. The Governor has seen fit to throw smoke screens up and cry that it must be kept out of politics, and suggests that it be given to the Department of Revenue. It seems to me that when anyone suggests jobs to the Governor himself it seems to be philanthropic with him.

Under the Governor's plan no publicity would be given to the applications. Under the Sowers-Conner bill it is proposed that applicants file their applications at least three weeks in advance and that the notice shall be published by the clerks of the courts in local papers for at least three times.

If we had the Department of Revenue issuing licenses no one would know who was receiving the licenses, and if you wanted to make a complaint you would have to travel several hundred miles down here at great expense and inconvenience. The judges are familiar with the conditions in their own counties and are always around to receive any reasonable complaints. The Department of Revenue is ignorant of the conditions surrounding the local counties.

The Governor also proposes to tax the brewers $2.48 a barrel. Under the Sowers-Conner bill the tax will be one dollar a barrel. We have found from the manufacturers that it would be impossible to sell beer to the working man for five cents a glass if they had to pay $2.48 tax. Another bad feature is that the brewers outside of Pennsylvania could ship beer into Pennsylvania in competition with our local brewers.

I ask that House Bill No. 1681 be given the united support of all the Republicans, Democrats, Socialists and Independents. It does not matter whether you are classified as wet or dry. That is not the question now. The Congress of the United States and the President have decided that question for you. So I beg you all to give this House Bill No. 1681, your united support.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that this bill was to be amended in the Senate?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I so stated.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentlemen from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I will. One question, it is too late for many.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, just one question. I understood that this bill is to be amended to meet objections. Whose objections?

Mr. SOWERS. The gentleman's objection, Mr. Speaker. Now, I have answered the one question.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to file the following reason for my vote on this bill:

Because prompt passage of a regulatory measure is important and because I believe that the court can better protect the people from the evils arising from the sale of beer than a political commission I vote "aye" on House Bill No. 1681.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow, April 4, 1933, at 11 A. M.

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 4, 1933

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, the Director and Guide of all movements among men, we beseech Thee that we may come to the source wherein that law in history is revealed in Thy word, that it is still the foundation of all of the movements of men. Help us to study the history of Thy people as it is written in Thy word and see that that same law is working now. May we see the function which fear has played in all the affairs of nations and of men. Take from us all fear, and may we have our lives and the life of our Commonwealth and nation founded not upon theory but upon knowledge as it is revealed in Thy word. Guide us and direct us and direct this Senate and this State by the knowledge of the law of God as it is written in His Word, and may it be so in our own individual lives that fear may be taken away and joy given in all that we do. We ask in Christ's Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HUNSICKER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITION

PROTESTING AGAINST THE REPEAL OR MODIFICATION OF THE "SUNDAY LAWS"

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with.

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 84, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions of an act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) entitled "An act providing for assistance to certain mothers providing for the appointment of boards of trustees for the several counties of the Commonwealth and for the appointment of a State supervisor and assistants and fixing the salaries of such State supervisor and assistants defining the powers and duties of boards of trustees including the power of appointing assistants and investigators and the distribution of funds at their disposal providing for the apportionment of the State appropriation among the several counties and requiring counties coming under the provisions of this act to appropriate certain moneys and providing penalties" as amended

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of four million one hundred fifteen thousand nine hundred thirty eight dollars ($4,115,938) is hereby specifically appropriated for the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of the act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) entitled "An act providing for assistance to certain mothers providing for the appointment of boards of trustees for the several counties of the Commonwealth and for the appointment of a State supervisor and assistants and fixing the salaries of such State supervisor and assistants defining the powers and duties of boards of trustees including the power of appointing assistants and investigators and the distribution of funds at their disposal providing for the apportionment of the State appropriation among the several counties and requiring counties coming under the provisions of this act to appropriate certain moneys and providing penalties" as amended

Section 2 Upon the approval of this act the State Treasurer after deducting from the entire amount appropriated for salaries and office expenses and for the unorganized counties shall divide the balance into two equal parts

The one part hereinafter referred to as the second part shall be held intact for distribution on and after the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four in the manner hereinafter provided

The other part shall upon the approval of this act be distributed among the several counties organized under the Mothers' Assistance System according to a budget for each county prepared by the Secretary of Welfare after taking into consideration the following basis of distribution

(1) The number of families receiving assistance on the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two (2) in addition provision for other eligible families which could not be aided from the fund available for the past biennium the number of additional families needing aid in each county to be determined by the following formula

In counties where the number of eligible families on the waiting list the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two was greater than the number representing the average yearly increase of families aided during the biennium ending the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two allowance may be determined by the former number In counties where the average yearly increase of families aided is the greater number allowance may be determined by this number rather than by the eligible waiting list The apportionment to each county shall be based upon the average grant per family prevailing in such county during the year ending the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two

Section 3 On the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four the State Treasurer shall set aside out of the second part to each county organized at the beginning of the biennium under the Mothers' Assistance System a sum equal to the apportioned to it under the preceding section by the Secretary of Welfare provided the amount so set aside to any county together with the unexpended balance of the amount apportioned to the county during the first year shall constitute the tSate's assistance during the second year to such county

Section 4 No county shall receive its allotment of the State appropriation available for any year under the method of distribution provided by this act unless such county has accepted the provisions of the act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) as amended and has placed at the disposal of the board of trustees a sum equal to the amount available from the State appropriation for such year No county shall receive any sum from the State under sections two and three of this act unless such county shall appropriate a like sum for the same purpose

Section 5 Out of the amount hereinbefore appropriated the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary shall be set apart to be apportioned to the counties heretofore unorganized under the Mothers' Assistance System At the beginning of the first year of the biennium the State Treasurer shall set aside for each of the counties unorganized prior to the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three equal parts of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) At the beginning of the second fiscal year of the biennium the State Treasurer shall set aside for the counties which have organized during the first fiscal year the amounts designated by the Secretary of Welfare who shall on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four reapportion to the counties organizing during the first fiscal year the balance remaining on that date of the sum set aside for the unorganized counties the reapportionment to be determined by the need as presented by the counties

Section 6 Out of the amount hereinbefore appropriated the sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary shall be set apart and applied for the payment of the salaries of the State Supervisor of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and of such assistants clerks and other employes as may be required for the proper conduct of the work of the supervisor for the traveling hotel and other expenses of the supervisor and her assistants for the cost of making special investigations and for incidental contingent and other expenses of every kind and description necessary for the proper administration of the Mothers' Assistance System

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I withdraw the amendments.

The PRESIDENT. The amendments have been withdrawn.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to.

Section 2 The State Emergency Relief Board shall make allocations monthly of the amounts to be distributed from the appropriations made by section one of this act among the several counties of this Commonwealth on a ratio that the estimated number of unemployed in a county bears to the estimated total number of unemployed persons in the entire Commonwealth as shown by the latest available tables compiled and issued by the Department of Labor and Industry The State Emergency Relief Board may in its discretion vary the amounts to be allocated from the appropriation made by section two from month to month but no allocation for any one or more months shall be so increased as to prevent the spread of said appropriation over the twenty-four month period provided for in section one

Section 3 The moneys so allocated to a county shall be available for expenditure in that county only for work relief or for food clothing fuel and shelter for those persons who are without means of support as may be determined by the political subdivisions to which allocated and none of said moneys shall be expended by such political subdivisions for administration purposes but the cost of administration shall be absorbed by the political subdivision and be paid from moneys received by taxation or otherwise

Section 4 (a) In counties coextensive with cities the money allocated to the county shall from time to time be paid by the State Treasurer on requisition of the State Emergency Relief Board into the city treasury and shall be expended by or under the supervision of the department of welfare of the city or by said department and any other political subdivisions in such cities charged by law with the care of the poor or by such other agency or agencies as the council of any such city may by ordinance provide

(b) Where a political subdivision charged by law with the care of the poor is coextensive with a county the amount allocated to the county from time to time shall be paid by the State Treasurer on requisition of the State Emergency Relief Board to the treasurer of such political subdivision

(c) In other counties where the territory of political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor are not coextensive with a county the amount allocated to a county for any month shall be reallocated by the State Emergency Relief Board among the various political subdivisions located wholly or party within such county on such equitable basis as the Board shall determine and when so reallocated the amount payable to any such political subdivision shall be paid to the treasurer thereof Provided however That in any county where each borough and township constitutes a separate poor district the State Emergency Relief Board may substitute the county commissioners of the county as the agency to administer the expenditure of such funds for the entire county and where the county commissioners are so designated as the agnecy they shall have authority to expend county moneys to pay the cost of administering the distribution of such moneys

Section 5 The State Emergency Relief Board shall have power to supervise the expendtiures of political subdivisions and other agencies of the moneys allocated under the provisions of this act and may at any time require any political subdivision or agency selected or set up by it to justify the need for additional moneys for relief purposes and the manner in which the moneys theretofore allocated to it have been applied or expended and to withhold payments in whole or in part from such subdivision or agency until need for further funds or the manner of future expenditures is justified by said political subdivision or agency in such manner as the Board may require Any allocations which have been withheld for lack of need shall be added to the amount to be allocated to all counties in any subsequent month or months

Where the State Emergency Relief Board shall be of the opinion that any political subdivision or agency selected or set up has been extravagant incompetent or negligent in the performance of its duties or in the expenditure of moneys allocated to it the Board shall have power to substitute or create any other agency to expend such moneys in accordance with this act and to permit such other agency to use a reasonable sum of the amount allocated to it to be allowed by the Board for administration expenses

The State Emergency Relief Board may discontinue allocations and payments under the provisions of this act at any time if in its opinion no further necessity for State-aid exists

Section 6 Each political subdivision charged by law with the care of the poor and the State Emergency Relief Board through any agency which it may select or set up or create shall have authority under the provisions of this act any law to the contrary nothwithstanding to expend the moneys received from the appropriations made by this act for work performed for the subdivision to which allocated or for any county city borough town township or school district or for the Commonwealth or for the purpose of providing food clothing fuel and shelter for persons residing within their respective districts who have gained a legal settlement and who are without means of support In no case shall any appropriation be used for paying cash commonly known as a "dole" to persons entitled to relief

No person shall be entitled to work or direct relief from the appropriations made by this act unless such person shall on account of financial circumstances be in actual need or work or direct relief Any person who shall receive aid from any political subdivision or agency under the provisions of this act as the result of false representations as to his or her need shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25.00) and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment of such fine and costs may be imprisoned for a period not exceeding ten days

Section 7 The amounts paid to political subdivisions under the provisions of this act and by them expended shall be audited by the auditors of such political subdivisions in the same manner and with like effect as other expenditures made by such subdivision

The Auditor General on his own initiative and at the request of the State Emergency Relief Board shall audit the accounts of any political subdivision or any other agency with respect to moneys received and expended under the provisions of this act in like manner and with like power and authority as is provided by the laws of the Commonwealth for audits in connection with the fiscal affairs of the State Government

Section 8 The sum of forty thousand dollars ($40,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the State Emergency Relief Board for printing the payment of the compensation and expenses of clerical and other assistants required for supervision of the expenditures of the appropriations made by this act for postage traveling expenses and for all other incidenital and necessary expenses incurred by the said Board in administering this act

Section 9 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

An Act making appropriations to the State Emergency Relief Board for allocation and reallocation to political subdivisions charged by law with the care of the poor or to other substituted agencies for direct and work relief defining the purposes for which such moneys may be expended providing for the audit of such expenditures and prescribing the powers and duties of the State Emergency Relief Board of cities coextensive with counties and of counties

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM GOVERNOR HOUSE BILL No. 126

He also presented for concurrence resolution of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows, considered and agreed to:

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 126, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand four hundred one of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 343), entitled "Fiscal Code" limiting the lien and procedure for collection of taxes, bonus and other moneys due the Commonwealth in certain cases.

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of further consideration.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

CONGRESS MEMORIALIZED TO ENACT LEGISLATION WHICH WILL EQUALIZE THE BURDEN OF TAXATION BETWEEN RIVER AND RAILROAD TRANSPORTATION

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, In many cases boats on rivers are operated in open competition with railroad transportation, and

Whereas, Boats so operated are not compelled to maintain rights of way in the manner required of railroads and as a consequence can offer lower rates for transportation, and

Whereas, The belief prevails that river transportation is not subjected to a burden of Federal and State taxation equal to that imposed on railroads, and

Whereas, Railroad transportation is essential to the development of the commerce and business of the United States, and

Whereas, River transportation is in most instances a matter of interstate commerce over which the Federal Government has control, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly memorialize Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will equalize the burden of taxation between river and railroad transportation in order to enable railroads to secure a fair share of the business

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, April 4, 1933.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene Monday evening, April 10, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjournes this week it reconvene Monday evening, April 10, at nine o'clock.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO AKRON DISASTER

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 4, 1933.

A few days ago the world learned that man in his eternal struggle for conquest of the last frontier, the upper elements, had successfully soared over the highest mountain;

Late news flashes of this morning stun us with the intelligence that the Akron, America's pride, the world's greatest dirigible, has gone down to destruction;

Among those apparently lost are Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics of the United States Navy, as well as other Navy and Army officers, and the officers and crew of that magnificent ship;

The names of these illustrious men are added thereby to the terrible total of heroes who have given their lives that man may free himself from the natural shackles to which man was born and which, God-like, he will ever struggle to break, at whatever cost;

Since this must be and man must suffer if men will conquer, and if we of the present be worthy of our forefathers who, at the price of death and over many years have forced humanity upwards to be the controller of its destiny and not the slave of its environment, it is for us only to view with pride sorrow the sacrifice of the pathfinders, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by this resolution seeks to express in a poor way its pride in America's gallant dead, its sorrow in America's overwhelming loss, and its solemn faith that they have not died in vain, and that America, in the future, as in the past, will falter not, nor count the cost ,in the age-long battle to make man truly the conqueror.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I move the adoption of the resolution just read.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the House of Representatives be informed accordingly.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION NO. 7

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 7, Printer's No. 7.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, In many cases boats on rivers are operated in open competition with railroad transportation; and

Whereas, Boats so operated are not compelled to maintain rights of way in the manner required of railroads, and as a consequence can offer lower rates for transportation; and

Whereas, The belief prevails that river transportation is not subjected to a burden of Federal and State taxation equal to that imposed on railroads; and

Whereas, Railroad transportation is essential to the development of the commerce and business of the United States; and

Whereas, River transportation is in most instances, a matter of interstate commerce over which the Federal Government has control; therefor be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly memoralize Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will equalize the burden of taxation between river and railroad transportation, in order to enable railroads to secure a fair share of the business;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HONORABLE WILLIAM CLOUD ALEXANDER PRESENTED TO THE HOUSE

The SPEAKER. The House is honored this morning by having with it a former member from the County of Delaware. This former member is known to a great many of you, and it is quite a pleasure to present him at the present time, the Honorable William Cloud Alexander.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is surely a great pleasure to me to say a word or two to you. I only wish I knew something to say to you that might be of some benefit, that might help you in the many problems that you are wrestling with. You have my sympathy. I know just how hard it is for you to do what is most important at the present time. I say that because I can see that there is pulling and halting by certain politicians, and you are drawn many times from the straight path that you would like to follow.

These times that we are going through, as you all know without my saying so to you, are hard times. This is no time for any of us to play politics. We should have our minds only on one thing; we should ask ourselves the question on each act, what can we do that is most beneficial to our country at the present time, and that should be the only motive that should move you in your actions.

Back in 1777, that wonderful editor, Thomas Paine, said, "These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will in this crisis flinch from his purpose, but he who stands to the end is entitled to the thanks of all men and women."

In these times of 1933 that is just as applicable as it was in the dark days of the Revolution, and it would be well for us to all hark back to those times when they threw aside all politics, and when the only thought was just for their country and its prosperity.

I see by the newspapers that they are criticizing you again as usual. I have not yet seen the newspapers lay down any program which you could follow. I have always been opposed, for either myself or anyone else, criticizing someone for what they are doing, unless we can offer something better, so that these poeple who are criticizing you and don't offer something better, there is no use in your paying any attention to them. I am sure, however, that you are working hard and that you are trying to do your best, and I hope that you may succeed.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 490 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

SPECIAL ORDER ON HOUSE BILL No. 1374 RESCINDED

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the action of the House in making House Bill No. 1374 a special order for 11.45 be rescinded.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, may I say to the House that the only reason I make this motion is that after the special order had been made it appeared that the bill was not on the members' desks. As soon as it is I will make a motion to make it a special order for whatever time it appears we can reach it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman form Delaware, Mr. Turner, to approach the rostrum and preside over the deliberations of this body.

(MR. TURNER IN THE CHAIR)

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

RESOLUTION

EXTENDING SYMPATHY ON LOSS OF LIFE IN DESTRUCTION OF AKRON

Mr. HABBYSHAW asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted.

In the House of Representatives, April 4, 1933.

A few days ago the world learned that man in his eternal struggle for conquest of the last frontier, the upper elements, had successfully soared over the highest mountain;

Late news flashes of this morning stun us with the intelligence that the Akron, America's pride, the world's greatest dirigible, has gone down to destruction;

Among those apparently lost are Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics of the United States Navy, as well as other Navy and Army officers, and the officers and crew of that magnificant ship;

The names of these illustrious men are added thereby to the terrible total of heroes who have given their lives that man may free himself from the natural shackles to which man was born and which, God like, he will ever struggle to break at whatever cost;

Since this must be and man must suffer if man will conquer, and if we of the present be worthy of our forefathers who at the price of death, and over many years have forced humanity upwards to be the controller of its destiny and not the slave of its environment, it is for us only to view with proud sorrow the sacrifice of the pathfinders; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by this resolution seeks to express in a poor way its pride in America's gallant dead, its sorrow in America's overwhelming loss, and its solemn faith that they have not died in vain, and that America, in the future, as in the past, will falter not, nor count the cost, in the age-long battle to make man truly the conqueror.

(SPEAKER TALBOT IN THE CHAIR)

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to thank the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, for presiding over the deliberations of this body.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1374 MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1374, Printer's No. 496, entitled

An Act relating to the minimum salaries and annual increments of the teaching and supervisory staffs of the public schools granting power to the courts of common pleas to permit as to certain school districts temporary reductions in the salary schedules authorizing courts of common pleas to suspend mandatory provisions of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" and of its amendments and supplements prohibiting school districts from demanding requesting or accepting gifts or donations from members of the teaching and supervisory staffs and empowering the Superintendent of Public Instruction to forfeit certain State subsidies for violations thereof relating to the effect of payment of salaries which are less than those prescribed by salary schedules granting certain options to the members of the School Employes' Retirement System and temporarily superseding any inconsistent acts and parts of acts on page 26 of today's calendar, bills on final passage, be made a special order on final passage at 12.50 this afternoon.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 810, Printer's No. 315, on page 58 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Witkin.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 810, entitled:

An Act to amend section thirteen of the act approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 208), entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and drugs, and providing penalties for the violation thereof; defining the words 'drug' and 'poison'; and providing for the appointment of a board which shall have in charge the enforcement of said law, and the power to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of said law; and providing for the purchase of samples of drugs for determining their quality, strength, and purity;" as amended removing liver products from the provision which prohibits the sale of medicines containing substances of glandular origin except by registered pharmacists and assistants

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the bill on which there was a great deal of misunderstanding. So that it may be clear to the members of this House, let me state that all this bill does is to restore the right to the merchant and the farmer and the ordinary storekeeper to sell cod liver oil and its products without the necessity of being a registered pharmacist. Under the Act of 1931, inadvertently, that right was taken away from the man who keeps a small store, and he was not allowed to sell harmless drug products, and the amendment to this act simply gives back to the person who had that right prior to 1931 the right to sell cod liver oil and other similar products. There seems to be a feeling among all who are interested that this will be satisfactory and that this is a proper amendment to this bill, and I will ask the members to support it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE (SPECIAL ORDER)

The SPEAKER. The hour of 12.50 having arrived the Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 1374.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1374, as follows:

An Act relating to the minimum salaries and annual increments of the teaching and supervisory staffs of the public schools granting power to the courts of common pleas to permit as to certain school districts temporary reductions in the salary schedules authorizing courts of common pleas to suspend mandatory provisions of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintaining the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" and of its amendments and supplements prohibiting school districts from demanding requesting or accepting gifts or donations from members of the teaching and supervisory staffs and empowering the Superintendent of Public Instruction to forfeit certain State subsidies for violations thereof relating to the effect of payment of salaries which are less than those prescribed by salary schedules granting certain options to the members of the School Employes' Retirement System and temporarily superseding any inconsistent acts and parts of acts

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Definitions The following terms shall be construed in this act to have the following meanings

1 "Employe" Any teacher principal supervisor or supervising principal county superintendent district superintendent assistant superintendent any members of the staff of the State Teachers' Colleges of the Cheyney Training School for Teachers of the staff of the Department of Public Instruction or of the staff of the State Council of Education or any clerk stenographer janitor attendance officer or other person engaged in any work concerning or relating to the public schools of this Commonwealth or in connection therewith or under contract or engagement to perform one or more of these functions No person however shall be deemed an employe within the meaning of this act who is not regularly engaged in performing one or more of these functions as a full-time occupation outside of vacation periods In all cases of doubt the School Employes' Retirement Board shall determine whether any person is an employe as defined in this act

2 "Employer" The Commonwealth school district State Teachers' Colleges Cheyney Training School for Teachers board or other committee by which the employe is paid

3 "Teacher or supervisor" A member of the teaching or supervisory staff or other appointee of any school district to whom any statutory minimum salary schedule shall be applicable

4 "Salary schedule" A schedule of minimum basic salaries plus required increments prescribed by any Act of Assembly for the payment of salaries of teachers or supervisors

Section 2 Re-employed Teachers and Supervisors During the period in which this act shall be in effect no school district shall be required to pay to any teacher or supervisor who during the year preceding the effective date of this act shall have been in its employ or who during such year shall have been in the employ of any school district whose territory shall wholly or in part comprise such district any salary or compensation at a rate greater than ninety per centum of the minimum amount which such teacher or supervisor would have been entitled to receive under the salary schedule if he or she had entered the employ of such district immediately prior to the effective date of this act

Section 3 New Teachers and Supervisors During the period in which this act shall be in effect no school district shall be required to pay to any teacher or supervisor who during the year preceding the effective date of this act was not employed by such school district or by a district whose territory shall wholly or in part comprise such district any salary or compensation at a rate greater than ninety per centum of the minimum amount which such teacher or supervisor would have been entitled to receive under the salary schedule if he or she had entered the employ of such district immediately prior to the effective date of this act

Section 4 Additional Reductions When in any school district a board of school directors shall be of the opinion that the district does not and will not have sufficient funds to pay the salaries required by the salary schedule as modified by the foregoing provisions of this act or that the payment of the salaries of the schedule as thus modified would be unreasonably oppressive upon the school district it may present its petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which such district or the greater part thereof in area is located praying that the court will reduce for the period during which this act shall be in effect the per centum herein provided from ninety to a per centum which the court shall deem to be just and reasonable for that district Each such petition shall be accompanied by a verified copy of the budget of the school district Upon receipt of such petition the court shall fix a day for a hearing not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days after such petition has been filed Notice of such hearing shall be given to all interested parties in such manner as the court shall direct On such hearing or hearings it shall be the duty of the court to examine into the necessity for the requested reduction If the court shall be of the opinion that the district does not and will not have sufficient funds to pay the salaries required by the salary schedule as modified by the foregoing provisions of this act or that the payment of the salaries of the schedule as thus modified would be unreasonably oppressive upon the school district it shall grant the requested reduction or any portion thereof which it shall deem necessary If the court shall be of the opinion that such reduction is not necessary it shall deny the request of the petition No appeal shall lie from any such order or decision of the court of common pleas

In lieu of or in addition to thus reducing the above percentage the court of common pleas may as to any such district and for such period suspend any provisions of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" and of its amendments and supplements when such provisions require and make mandatory any action by the school district or its board of school directors No appeal shall lie from any such order of the court of common pleas

Section 5 During the year which shall begin on July first one thousand nine hundred thirty-three and close June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred thirty-four each employe who is a member of the School Employes Retirement System shall have the option of contributing to the School Employes Retirement Fund either on the basis of the total salary which he or she will receive during such year or on the basis of the salary which he or she received during the year which began July first one thousand nine hundred thirty-two and ended June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred thirty-three Each such employe shall notify in writing his employer on or before September first one thousand nine hundred thirty-three upon which salary he or she elects to contribute

During the year which shall begin July first one thousand nine hundred thirty-four and close June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred thirty-five each employe who is a member of the School Employes' Retirement System shall have the option of contributing to the School Employes' Retirement Fund either on the basis of the total salary he or she will receive during such year or on the basis of the total salary which he or she received during the year which began July first one thousand nine hundred thirty-two and close June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred thirty-three Each such employe shall notify in writing his employer on or before September first one thousand nine hundred thirty-four upon which salary he or she elects to contribute Each employer shall notify the School Employes' Retirement Board in writing on or before September fifteenth one thousand nine hundred thirty-three and on or before September fifteenth one thousand nine hundred thirty-four of the option elected by each such employe for the then current year

During each of such years which begin on July first one thousand nine hundred thirty-three and July first one thousand nine hundred thirty-four the employer shall contribute on the basis of the salary upon which each of such employes shall have thus elected to contribute

Each new member who comes into the School Employes' Retirement System during the period beginning July first one thousand nine hundred thirty-three and ending on June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred thirty-five shall contribute on the basis of the salary actually received The employer shall contribute upon the same basis

The salary upon which each such employe elects to contribute for each of the years beginning July first one thousand nine hundred thirty-three and July first one thousand nine hundred thirty-four shall be used as the salary for each such year in the determination of any final salary upon which a retirement allowance will be computed

Section 6 Effect of Payment of Salaries Which Are Less Than Those Prescribed by Salary Schedule There shall be no deduction from the amount to be paid by the Commonwealth to a school district as a partial reimbursement for the salary or compensation of any teacher or supervisor because the district pays such person any time during the biennium beginning on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-three a smaller salary or compensation than is prescribed for such person by the salary schedule so long as the amount which the district pays is not less than the amount permitted by the provisions of this act or than that allowed by a court of common pleas in pursuance of the provisions of this act

Section 7 Prohibition Against Demanding Requesting or Accepting Gifts or Donations During the period in which this act shall be in effect it shall be unlawful for any board of school directors to demand request or accept directly or indirectly any gift or donation from any teacher or supervisor within its employ

Section 8 Forfeiture of Subsidies When during the period during which this act shall be in effect the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be of the opinion that any school district shall have violated the provisions of this act by demanding requesting or accepting any gift or donation from one or more teachers or supervisors he shall subject to the restrictions herein provided have the power to declare forfeited for the then current school year any State subsidy which is to be paid to the district as a partial reimbursement of the salary of each such teacher or supervisor

Before declaring any such forfeiture as to any school district the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall mail to the board of school directors of the district a statement setting forth the alleged violations and the names of the one or more teachers or supervisors from whom the gifts or donations are alleged to have been demanded requested or accepted The statement shall be accompanied by a notice stating that unless a denial of such allegations verified by the affidavit of the president or secretary of the board is received by the Superintendent of Public Instruction within fifteen days he will declare a forfeiture as to such subsidy for each such teacher or supervisor If such a denial shall not be received within such fifteen days the Superintendent of Public Instruction may declare such one or more forfeitures

If such a denial shall be received the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall conduct a hearing to determine whether or not there have been any such violations He shall give reasonable notice of the time and place of the hearing to the board of school directors of the district and at the hearing shall give the board the right to be heard and to be represented by counsel

If after the hearing the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be of the opinion that one or more of the violation set forth in the statement which he shall have sent to the board as herein provided did actually occur he may as herein provided forfeit the subsidies to be paid to the district as a partial reimbursement for the salary of each teacher or supervisor listed in such statement from whom in his opinion the district or its representatives shall have demanded requested or accepted a gift or donation

Section 9 Impairment of Contracts Nothing in this act shall be construed as impairing the obligation of any contract made before the effective date of this act

Section 10 Constitutional Construction The Provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decisions of the court as to those provisions shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared as a legislative intent that this act would have been adopted by the General Assembly had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 11 Effective Date Period During which Act Shall be Effective This act shall become effective immediately upon its passage by the General Assembly and its approval by the Governor and shall remain in effect until the first day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five

Section 12 Inconsistent Provisions All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby superseded for the period during which this act shall be in effect

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, this is the bill which was defeated on March 27th, a week ago last Monday night, on final passage. I don't want to take the time of the House, but I do want to point out to the House the meaning and purpose of this bill, and how it fits in with the educational program which you have committed to your Educational Committee.

On March 27th, 1933, when this bill was voted on, there were a number of very fine speeches made upon this floor, and I was very sorry that on that night I did not have any voice at all, because while I have great regard and great respect for the gentlemen, both Democratic and Republican, that spoke at that time, I would have liked to have drawn the attention of the House to certain things more in a technical way and less in a sentimental way. I yield to no one in this House in my respect and regard for the profession of teaching school and for the school teachers, and this is not a bill to cut the school teachers.

In the educational program as the Educational Committee has brought it on this floor, there are three different divisions, House Bill No. 1374, seeks to put the districts in shape so that they can cut their own expenses down to their income. Under these several bills they keep the money they get and the districts are subsidized, but that bill which attempted to make the larger districts has been abandoned and is out of the picture, and will no longer be up for your attention.

I want to be understood on this bill. This is not my legislation. I don't want to be put in the position that when I am on this floor, when I introduce an act, and when I work it out and come here and try to convince the House that it ought to be passed, that it is my bill. You have given us this problem which is a very difficult one, and we have worked on it and tried to work it out, and this is the solution for the districts as compared to the money we give them. The situation in the districts is this; that there will not be in this year more than sixty per cent. of the taxes collected, and we feel sure that in the next year many cases of school districts there will be not more than fifty per cent. of the taxes collected.

The State of Pennsylvania only pays fifteen per cent. of the educational expenses, which leaves eighty-five per cent. to be borne by the districts, and the reason for this bill is that there is a mandatory provision requiring the school board to pay a certain salary to teachers of certain grades, and they have no power to waive that. I want to say to you further than that, that the members of the school boards of Pennsylvania if they disregard the laws in regard to the schools, if they go ahead and break through structure, they are personally responsible if they try to fit their outgo to their income and the money they have coming in.

The committee has been urged to put a definite limit on the cuts in this bill. I would be delighted if the cut could be maintained at ten per cent. which the board can make without seeing anybody, but it is impossible to do it. If the cuts were only limited to twenty per cent. if that was the limit, and many of the boards could not pay it, it would take thirty million dollars from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to carry these school districts over the next biennium.

I want to say to you, ladies and gentlemen, that it is wonderful to talk about teachers, and it is a wonderful profession and the highest type of service that we have, but the taxpayer and the child that goes to school is entitled to some consideration also from the Legislature.

I say to you that if this bill does not pass, it may leave the districts in such shape that they have to pay out more money than comes in, which they cannot do. I say to you that there will be from two hundred to three hundred districts in Pennsylvania that won't open their schools next fall, and before the year is out, at least one-half of the twenty-seven hundred school districts in Pennsylvania will be closed.

I am making an appeal to the members of this House for the taxpayer and the children who go to school, and I say to you that it will be disgraceful if the Legislature goes home and leaves half of the school districts of Pennsylvania in such shape that they cannot maintain their schools and give education to the children. All that the passage of House Bill No. 1374 does is to give to the districts the right to decrease the teachers pay ten per cent without seeing anybody about it and it gives them the right to decrease any of the other mandatory provisions of the law, including teachers' salaries, with the consent of the Court of Common Pleas as the bill provides. Even then there will be many districts closed unless the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania provides a revolving fund by which these districts can be taken care of.

I am making an appeal for the school children of Pennsylvania and the taxpayers of Pennsylvania who cannot keep their house in order with the present law. Already in Pennsylvania there are districts which are disregarding the acts and are cutting twenty-five and thirty and forty percent, and even then they won't be able to pay their teachers.

I say to you that it is absolutely essential that you, ladies and gentlemen of this House, put the school districts of Pennsylvania in shape so they can pare down expenses to their receipts and keep the schools running.

This bill is a temporary bill which expires at the end of the biennium without any further legislation, and it simply does what any business house has to do, it allows the district to go into the Court of Common Pleas of their county, the court having jurisdiction, and show to the court their budget showing that they have taken all larceny out of it, that there are no high priced officials, lawyers, secretaries, treasurers, and that they have made every reduction they can, and when that is so, then the court has the power not only to let them cut the teacher's salaries, but to cut any other mandatory provision. I think that everybody here is familiar with this bill. Let me say what it is in one word.

It allows the district, when the financial picture requires it, to cut ten per cent of the salary of teachers without seeing anybody. It allows them then, if that is not sufficient, to go into the court of common pleas of their county, and after showing the court that they have cleaned house, the court may allow them then to make any other reductions in the mandatory requirements which the court thinks is necessary and proper under the peculiar circumstances of that district. That is what any business house has to do, and that is what the school districts have to do, and even, I say, unless the State of Pennsylvania provides five million dollars, you have five, six or seven hundred districts closed. There is no use to talk about getting more taxes, they won't get any more taxes on real estate, they are getting all of the money that they can get. Unless you pass this act you put the districts in a place where they cannot get the revenues to make the payments which they are required to make.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, this is the same bill that was before us last week and which was defeated by this House. It now transfers certain duties from the Superintendent of Public Instruction to the Court of Common Pleas.

As we all know, under the present law the school directors of the particular districts are vested with the authority to regulate and control their schools. This bill proposes that that privilege be taken from the school directors and be taken from the Department of Education in Harrisburg and transferred to the Court of Common Pleas of the county whenever a district becomes so financially embarrassed that it cannot meet its obligations to its teachers. It also enables the Court of Common Pleas of the county to suspend for a period of two years any part of its school code. I have noticed in the daily press when this bill was before the House before, the mention of the fact that this bill would not suspend any of the provisions of the Edmonds Act, but I want to call your attention to the fact that it specifically provides that the Court of Common Pleas shall have power to suspend any provision of the School Code.

Since the bill was before us last week the State Superintendent of Public Instruction has seen fit to send out another letter explaining the provisions of the proposed School Bill, and in that letter in paragraph 3, discussing this particular bill, he emphasizes the fact that the power to suspend any part of the School Code is contained in this bill.

Now, I see no reason why these people of the particular communities should not be the ones best fitted to say what should be done in the public schools. They have their Boards of Directors, and it seems that the sponsors in this bill refuse to entrust the conduct of the school, to their Boards when finances become low, an appeal must be taken, or rather a petition must be presented to the Court of Common Pleas and they may do whatever they think proper under the circumstances.

Now, this bill then provides that after the Court of Common Pleas has made its decision, there is no appeal from that decision, which I think is not only undemocratic, but very un-American in principle. You are transferring the control of the schools to the Court of Common Pleas, and there it must remain, and these school districts instead of receiving the money from the State, to which they should be entitled, and to which they are entitled, and if we were to pass the proper legislation here, there would be sufficient money to reimburse them to meet all the requirements of the School Code under the Edmonds Act. I think the bill as it is at present will have the effect of suspending the Code in that it provides for an appeal and secures the consent of the Court of Common Pleas. I am opposed to this feature of the bill and I hope you will again assist me in voting this bill down.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Mr. Wilson in his remarks a few monents ago, and I want to say right now that I have due respect for our good friend from McKean, Mr. Wilson, and I have all due respect for his thought in this matter, but I do want to voice an opposition simply because of some facts which I would like to bring to your attention. In his remarks he says that this bill will not cut the salaries and in the next few moments he amends his talk and says that it will help the district to carry on.

If it becomes necessary for any community to make a cut in the teachers' salaries, how is it going to help our school districts? Many of the school districts have been keeping themselves within an economy program. I can name you district after district that have been carrying on year after year without paying their treasurer a cent. In my own particular district we are fortunate in having banks who are willing to and do that service for us without a cent of pay, but these school districts are on the rocks because of the fact that we have farms and mines in our community where the valuations have gone to practically nothing, and nothing remains for placing a valuation on.

The State has given us this setup. Positively they have forced on us a high standard of education that requires certain years of college education for the teachers before they may enter the class room. They have set up certain requirements that must be met in this preparation work. Should the State step out from under this load and say to the townships, "Help yourselves, and if you fail to deliver, we are not going to take the responsibility."

If we pass this resolution the State is not going to be responsible, and it will be up to the small districts to carry on, and if they cannot carry on the State does not assume any more responsibility.

In our district at the present time we have been able to collect fifty-five and two-tenths per cent. of our tax duplicate. Mr. Wilson has told you very plainly that the districts cannot collect their taxes. How are they going to carry on if the State steps out from under?

If we have millions and millions to build roads, surely the State can declare a moratorium and spend thirty million dollars if necessary to continue the work of our schools. We are spending millions for colleges and higher education, but what are we doing now for the children? To my mind it seems like a disgrace that such a proposition should come before us for discussion. Let us be sincere and show the people back home, who are the parents of the children and who are those paying the taxes, that we are willing to do our bit and deal fairly with them.

If we have thirty million dollars for roads, why cannot we have some or all of it for our schools. The teachers are State employes because of our present setup. There are some who say that the State owes our teachers nothing. The State has given us this setup.

Suppose that here on Capitol Hill the salaries of the employes could be cut at any time. Would that be fair? They have not shown us as yet that any of the employes on Capitol Hill are going to be reduced. Those persons who take jobs on Capitol Hill know what their wages are going to be; why should the teachers take a job and not know where they are at and not know what their salaries will be. Under the present set up certain qualifications are demanded of the teachers before they take a job, and then they don't know whether they will be able to carry on. If we must carry more than ten per cent. cut in the teachers' salaries, why not put it in this bill here that no cut shall take an advance of more than ten per cent. until the district has proven itself unable to carry on.

I am not objecting to the provisions of this bill because of being a teacher, I am objecting to it because it is not fair; we are not playing fair with the teachers. Since our districts back home cannot possibly raise any more money to keep going, are we doing a thing here to continue the schools? It seems to me we are doing our best to close the schools and double the burden on the districts back home when we know that they cannot carry on.

Within the last week I have received thirty some petitions in opposition to this bill, and I assure you that they are not all from teachers, there is one from an engineering society, and there is one from a taxpayers' association. So far I have not had a single one to come in and ask us from our county to go along with this bill.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, let us be serious on this matter and let us vote it down.

Mr. LOSE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have been connected with the public schools of this State for nearly half a century.

I would be the last man to rise here in support of bills which mean a reduction of the salaries of teachers all over the State, but I can see no other way out. It is not a matter alone of State subsidies, it is a matter largely of a reduction in our school taxes.

If I may be pardoned for referring to my own school district, where I am president of the school board and where I have been a member of the school board for the last ten years, I would like to say that up until the present year we have always been able to collect our taxes, we have always been able to pay our bills at the close of the school term and balance the budget, and there has always been a little surplus in the treasury. Our school taxes have always been collected with exonerations of only a few hundred dollars, but this year we shall close the year with at least eleven thousand dollars of delinquent taxes, and we must borrow money from the bank for the last two months in order to pay our teachers.

This is the condition in my own school district. A week ago last Friday we called our teachers together, and told them that in every case their work had been satisfactory, that their teachers' contracts would be continued if the teachers so desired, and then we told these teachers of the difficult financial conditions in our district and told them that all of their salaries would be reduced. All of these teachers were willing to sign the contract to continue their work at these reduced salaries, and I am sure that that is the case in many school districts in this State.

Mr. Brennan and I within the last few days received, each of us, a letter from the largest borough of our county, from the supervising principal of that borough saying that he and his forty-two teachers approved of this bill, they knew of the conditions in that particular borough, the financial conditions, and that the teachers' salaries must be reduced.

I believe that the standards of efficiency in our schools will not be reduced with this reduction of salary. Any teacher who will reduce her efficiency ten per cent. because her salary is reduced ten per cent. is not a real teacher and the teachers in this State I am satisfied in my mind, have the professional spirit and will keep up the standards of efficiency even if salaries be reduced somewhat in the emergency we now find ourselves.

I think that this bill ought to pass and that this one matter ought to be settled.

Mr. SIMON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not often get up to make a speech, as you know. It seems to me that the time is here now when as a member of the Education Committee that worked on these bills ever since this session has started, I think I should say something. I do not have much to say, because I am frank to admit that I was against most of the program all the session, but I recognize in this bill, the first bill I have seen here in three sessions as a member of this House, that gives back to the local districts some authority. Every session I have been here, and I know in several sessions before that, any change that was made in the school system was to take away the local district and give to the Department of Education.

I contend that this bill in itself does not reduce a single salary in the State, and I say that all of these speeches that you have made here against any reduction of teachers' salaries should be saved and delivered at home to your school boards. I am not quite sure that this question can be left safely with the local school boards.

At home in my district, and I know I am talking for the taxpayers who for ten years have been trying for more authority in the running of their affairs with less dictation from Harrisburg. I have received here in the last week but one telegram protesting against this bill, and last week when I was home I got a pledge from them and the men and women said "We think the teachers ought to be behind this bill for their own sakes."

We know that there are but few teachers in this State who have not contributed ten per cent of their salaries almost at the point of a gun in most cases, and in lots of cases I know they have contributed almost twenty-five per cent of their salaries. I am quite sure that if what Dr. Rule has told you is true it will not mean enough, if anything, in policy.

With the statement of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Westrick, I can hardly agree, if he can find thirty million dollars and prepares a bill to appropriate it, I am in favor of it and will vote for it. I am in favor of thirty million dollars more for the schools if it can be found, but in the first place I am in favor of this bill in order that the schools may be kept open.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is another one of those temporary measures. Ever since I have been in this House we have been passing temporary measures to deal with these appropriations and the problems that arise out of them. I think it is about time that we should go a little bit further than that, but I want to confine myself at this time to the provisions of this particular bill.

As I understand it many of the school districts in the State today are unable to collect their taxes, and consequently are unable to carry on. As I understand this bill, under such circumstances, they can appeal to their local courts, and each of them can say to those courts that they don't have any money to pay the teachers or they can ask the teachers to teach for nothing. There is absolutely no restriction in the bill on the amount. All that is necessary is for the district to show the judges that they do not have money to pay the teachers, and then the court may authorize any cut that may be necessary in their judgment under the circumstances in order to meet the situation. If they are unable to collect any taxes and they have no money, then it necessarily follows from the language of this bill that the teachers will be asked to teach for nothing.

I don't see why they should pick out one particular group to be the victim of these circumstances. Pennsylvania is one of the richest States in the United States. We have plenty of wealth within this State. We have not cut our road program at all, as I understand it. As one of the former speakers has pointed out, we are still spending for roads as much as we did in the years of prosperity. But they say let's cut down on our schools, let's cut down on our appropriations. I realize that local districts are up against it, I realize that real estate taxes are not coming in, but there are other sources of taxes in Pennsylvania.

Many States in this Union, who are not nearly as wealthy as this State, have an income tax. There is no reason why we should not have one, and there are men in this State who alone could pay enough income tax to keep our schools open. There is no reason why we should let them get away with it and not increase taxes, and then tell the teachers that they shall teach for nothing or the next thing to it.

Let us start at the top, let us get the money from those who have it before we start cutting down on our schools. If you are going to ask the teachers to teach for less wages, they would in a short time be receiving less wages than paid to laborers. If you are going to ask them to teach for nothing, or the next thing to it, you are going to cut down the morale of the schools, you are going to destroy your school system, the Edmonds Act and the various other protections you have built up during the years.

I ask you to consider the question from that angle. I object to being put on the spot and saying we haven't the money, the districts don't have the money. They say we don't have any choice. I say we do have a choice and that is to levy taxes on those that have the money to pay. Why don't we tax these public utilities?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking upon the question before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The matter of public utilities or income tax is not before this body at this time. The gentleman from Berks will confine his remarks to the bill before the House.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the question before this House at this time has nothing to do with our inability to raise money by taxation? I understood the gentleman, Mr. Wilson, to say that the purpose of this bill was to make it possible to carry on the schools, because of the inability to collect taxes to carry them on. It seems to me that it would be a fair argument in answer to that to point out where we have a source from which we can obtain taxes for that purpose.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has made its decision and requests the gentleman to confine his remarks to the bill.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I shall abide by the ruling.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HOOPES. I ask the members of the House to consider this question from all angles and not to make the school teachers the victims of circumstances. Do not make the poor workers bear the burden every time. Let us vote this bill down and then proceed to find measures to take care of this emergency in other ways.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to add my protest to those last few which we have just heard, and I want to say to you that I speak from experience as being one of the taxpayers and a farmer whose income will not cover his taxes, his insurance and his interest. I want to say further that I think these economies, and these laws and the bills we are trying to pass begin at the wrong end.

Why do we haggle over a ten per cent. cut in teachers' salaries, why do we waste hours in discussing them, which we do have, and which they did over in the School Directors Convention last winter, and not say one word about making a cut in the higher brackets.

I want to say to you that you had better begin on your Superintendent of Public Instruction who is getting twelve thousand dollars a year. Do you want me to tell you what that twelve thousand dollars a year means to a farmer selling his potatoes at twenty-five cents a bushel? It means forty-eight thousand bushels of potatoes. That you pour into the lap of your Superintendent of Public Instruction for a year's work and then you hire deputies, who do all the work, and he is a figurehead. You take that same thing in terms of milk. This whole State is just on the verge of collapse because of the retail prices that the farmers are getting for their milk. They are paying 42.63 cents a hundred pounds for milk. One hundred pounds of milk constitutes forty-six quarts and a fraction,—sixty three cents——

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on the question before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine himself to the bill. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I was just comparing the superintendent's salary with the school teachers', Your Honor, and I think it is a fair comparison.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think it is evident that the gentleman is right, as he has addressed you as "Your Honor."

The SPEAKER. The Chair accepts the compliment. The gentleman from Erie will proceed.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry if I have broken the rules of the House. I just felt that it was perfectly fair to compare the wages of the superintendent with the wages of the teachers, because it is the wages of the teachers we are talking about, and the major part of the teachers' wages comes out of the farmers' potatoes and milk. If he can't sell them for money, he will have to pay potatoes and milk, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction would have to get storage for forty-eight thousand bushels of potatoes and forty-eight thousand cans of milk, because that is what the farmer is going to have to pay them in.

I am in favor of cutting costs, and I would like to make a motion that you begin at the top.

Mr. WILLIAM L. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I received the following telegram this morning:

"April 4, 9.15 A. M. Honorable William L. Brown, House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

"The Pittsburgh Teachers' Association petitions you to oppose section 4 of House Bill No. 1374, if this bill fails to set a limit to the salary cut teachers will receive and it objects also to amendment giving to local courts powers to suspend provisions of Edmonds act. We object because it relieves the State of its obligation to give its children their right to an education as provided in Constitution.

(Signed) MARY H. MORGAN,
Chairman of the Legislative Committee."

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if it is not a fact that he practically assured me that before this measure would be up I would have a chance to vote on a reduction of my own salary and the salaries in the higher brackets of the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I did so tell the gentleman, because I thought last night they would vote on the Howell resolution. I was telling the gentleman what I thought was the fact.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that the gentleman was present at a meeting when a committee was appointed to appear before the Chairman of the Appropriations Committe and see what could be done relative to using funds now appropriated for the conduct of higher learning in the Commonwealth by the State to the total of seven million dollars, to make up the deficit that now exists in the essential class room teaching?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I was present and I wished it God speed too.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he heard the Speaker of the House on the floor of this House state that it was a very poor policy for the Governor or anyone else to stampede this Legislature to hasty action?

Mr. WILSON. Such a statement may have been made, Mr. Speaker, but I don't recall it. It probably was made if you say so.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not believe there is anyone here that will go any farther for economy than I will, but I believe if we are in good faith and if we desire to prove the evidence of that good faith it is only fair for us to clean our own door steps, as the expression goes. First, give us a chance to vote or—speaking for myself—give me the chance to vote to take ten per cent or fifteen per cent from my own salary, and then I will gladly vote for this or any other bill that reduces salaries.

I think it is only fair that the proposition be put before the membership.

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in the discussion I would just like to make a few corrections as I see them, being a former teacher of Pennsylvania.

There seems to be an impression among the members of the House that there should be a definite basic minimum of salaries for teachers. As I see that point it would certainly be detrimental to the teaching profession of Pennsylvania, because there are certain districts within the confines of our Commonwealth that will not be called upon to cut the salaries of the teachers in their respective districts. Therefore, if this would be made less, the school boards, in order to have a good treasury, might place the burden upon you and me as teachers were we following that profession at this time. Any person that will oppose this bill for that reason should think of that phase of the bill.

Another question that seems to bother or becloud the minds of some of the members is why the court of common pleas, as this bill is amended, should have the right to suspend any portion of the act. That might be good for our boys and girls, the men and women of the coming generation, by the fact that when the budget in that school district has been pared to the core or the onion has been peeled to that point, then they might ask that they take one month of the school term from boys and girls in the fourth class districts at least. Would it not be better, ladies and gentlemen, that the courts as this bill provides, should be competent to reduce our school term to seven months rather than if it is not passed to close the schools at the beginning of the new year?

These are only a few of the points that I see as a former teacher and as one vitally interested in the welfare of our schools of our Commonwealth.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, might I just here answer the burning desire of the gentleman from Erie to reduce his own salary by telling him that on the calendar today on page 5 is the bill of Mr. Holmes amending the present law, decreasing the compensation of the members of the General Assembly and the amount that they shall receive for postage and mileage?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wonder whether any of you will agree with me in this observation? Every time than an economy bill has come before this House there seems to be a general attempt to say that if another bill had passed we would vote for this one. I have never seen in all of my experience in this House a greater attempt to avoid voting on an economy bill by reason of the fact that another economy bill has not yet been voted on. Members of the House, if you adopt that attitude and do not start somewhere, we will get no where. Some economy measure must be passed first.

The gentleman from Erie says that he would gladly do so and so if so and so would happen. If we have to cut the low brackets they say they would gladly do so and so if we cut the high brackets, and then when there is an attempt to cut the high brackets, they say they would be glad to do so and so if there were a cut in the low brackets.

Members of the House, I say to you in all seriousness if we stand for economy, then no matter what bill comes first we stand for economy. It seems to me that the general excuse of some thing else happening before something else happens ought to cease in this House.

With respect to this particular piece of legislation, there is no one within the confines of this House who is more interested in the school teachers than I am. If you will pardon a personal reference I married one and I have a sister who is one. But I want to say to you members of this House that the situation, as I see it, is that this bill benefits the school districts, that the school districts need it, because we are faced with a situation that unless you give the school districts the opportunity to do this they will close.

Every member of this House knows that I hate to agree with the Governor of Pennsylvania, but I have been compelled on this occasion to say that the Governor of Pennsylvania is right, and believe me it hurts me so to do, but what we have to do is this: We have either to close the schools or we have to send the children schoolless for days in a great number of our school districts in this Commonwealth, or we have to give them the right to work out their own problem. When you say there ought to be a bottom to a cut I agree with you. I agree with you that school teachers ought to be well paid, but I say we are faced with the alternative of either closing the schools or giving those school districts the needed opportunity to so reduce their salaries that they can remain open. This is only for the period in this next biennium.

I say, members of the House, you owe it to yourself, you owe it to the school children and you owe it to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania not to say, "pass some other measure and I will vote for this bill," because if any lady or gentleman in this House would under any circumstances not vote for this bill because the fact that no other bill has passed yet it ought not to be an excuse.

I ask you to vote in the affirmative on this bill.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I appreciate that the State is confronted with a very serious situation, and I also realize that something must be done in order to maintain an equilibrium in the finances of our State, but contrary to the gentleman that preceded me I have always tried hard to be agreeable with the Governor and have succeeded to a great extent. But at this time it is not possible for me to agree with the Governor.

I believe that this problem that confronts us at this time is one of the most important problems, and requires the most careful consideration that we could give to any measure that could come before this House.

As I see it, the teachers mark a standard. I figure that the laboring class or the common people are counted from the teachers down, and whatever happens here is going to happen all the way down the line.

I have always been interested in education. In the past two sessions I have worked for the passage of a tenure bill, which would give protection to the teachers from politicians. My object in keeping teachers out of politics would be so to enable them to give the State the benefit of their knowledge, fearlessly and without fear of any pressure being brought on by the men that are responsible for their employment.

If this procedure was founded on a fair basis, if a certain figure could be protected and they know that they were not going to go under that, then serious consideration might be given to the reduction. As this bill has it if in the judgment of those who are going to handle this matter, they see fit to demoralize the school system altogether, what can be done? On the other hand with the best intentions, they have no other power than to cut the teachers. Our relief that we look forward to cannot be effective for more than one biennium, and what assurance or what encouragement have we to think that after this biennium is over we can improve the situation? The chances are two to one that we will have to continue this process and if we continue this process for several terms we will have no school system.

Our civilization is built on our school system. If we have a great doctor or if we have a great lawyer, the school system is responsible for it to a great extent. We know that our standards of public life are going to be high or low very largely in accordance with what we are going to pay our school teachers.

As I understand it, the school teachers in our big cities who are reciving four or five or six thousand dollars won't be affected by this measure. It is those who are in the low brackets that are going to be reduced.

Economy is the sentiment of the day. We know that. We know also that many crimes have been committed in the name of civilization and in the name of Christianity, and I warn you if you are not careful there will be crime committed in the name of economy.

I think we should weigh our opinions carefully. I think that a measure like this is not economy if it takes away from us any service more than that it saves in dollars and cents, and economy could not be made with the single idea of saving a dollar.

We have a condition that we want to preserve, we have a standard that we want to maintain. Economy could not be made at the cost of breaking down our standards. For that reason I cannot reconcile myself with this measure.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House this is not an economy measure, but a bill making a target out of the small paid school teachers, and it has a tendency to lower the standards of education despite the fact that our school teachers have spent years of toil and expense in fitting themselves for the profession of training the youth of our land.

I therefore ask that this bill be voted down.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to favor this measure. There are more ways of skinning a cat than one.

If the school teachers and the local districts do not have this bill enacted into law they are going to reduce the teachers' salaries. Our local school board has discharged or failed to renew every school teacher's contract. The school board of the city of Harrisburg, in which we sit, has also failed to renew the contracts of each and every one of their school teachers. I read in today's press that the same action was taken in Wilkes-Barre where five hundred and twenty-five persons, with a payroll of one million dollars, the school teachers have not had their contracts renewed. Why? For the simple reason that school boards will employ a teacher at a reduced salary and exclude the teachers that are now on the payroll. Under a ruling of the Department of Education they will not be allowed to re-employ the same teacher at a reduced salary. That necessitates the employment of a new teacher at a reduced salary and possibly at a greater reduction than the ten per cent that this bill provides.

This bill is a protection to the school teachers whether they know it or now. The school boards and the local districts will not go bankrupt. The school boards and the local districts will find some effective and legal manner in order to defeat the provisions of the Edmonds Act, and to continue salaries on the present basis.

They have already at the point of a gun, practically, forced contributions from the school teachers back into the school funds.

Ladies and gentlemen, I urge the passage of this bill. It saves the school teachers, it obviates the high jacking of the school teachers by the school boards; it vitiates forced contributions into the school funds. By this act we allow each and every district to perpetuate its individuality.

I ask you ladies and gentlemen to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The use of the hall of the House has been granted from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock this afternoon to the unemployed organizations throughout the State, and the Chair requests that as many members as possible remain in the House to hear the demands made by these various groups.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will declare a recess until 4.00 P. M. Are there objections? The Chair hears none, and (at 1.55 P. M.) declares a recess until 4.00 P. M.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 4.00 P. M.

The SPEAKER (Grover C. Talbot) in the Chair.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 206.

An Act authorizing the Board of County Commissioners of counties of the second class on approval of the president judge of the court of common pleas of said counties to adequately compensate fire marshals who have been regularly appointed annually under existing law and who discharged the duties of said appointments for twenty years and upward at a compensation of not more than ten dollars per annum and also to authorize the Board of County Commissioners of counties of the second class subject to the approval of the common pleas court to provide for the retirement during the life of each of such fire marshals on annual pensions not in excess of one hundred dollars each calendar month

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 1, by striking out the word "Authorizing" and inserting in lieu the word "Requiring"; also in line 4, by striking out the words "adequately compensate" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "fix the compensation of"; also in same line by striking out after the word "marshals" the following: "who have been regularly appointed annually under existing law and who discharged the duties of said appointments for twenty years and upward at a compensation of not more than ten dollars per annum and also by inserting after the word "also" in line 8, the word "and"; also in line 2 by striking out the word "authorize" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "require"; also in line 12, by striking out after the syllable "tirement" the words "during the life of each"; also in line 13, by striking out after the word "pensions" the words "not in excess of one hundred dollars each calendar month" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "after twenty years of service such compensation and pension to be payable by the county."

Amend section 1, page 2, by striking out lines 1, 2, 3 and 4 as follows:

"Wherein the office of fire marshal shall have been established by law and annual appointment made by the common pleas court of the said county at a compensation of ten dollars per annum that"; also in line 5 by striking out after the word "Commissioners" the words "of said counties"; also in line 7 by striking out after the word "shall" the words "make provision out of the general fund in the treasury of said counties for" and inserting in lieu thereof the folowing: "fix the compensation of the fire marshal payable by the county at a sum"; also in line 9, by striking out after the syllable "quate" the words "compensation"; also in same line by striking out after the word "fire" the word "marshals" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "marshal"; also by striking out lines 10, 11 and 12 as follows: "Who have been regularly appointed and discharge the duties of said office of fire marshal continuously for a period of twenty years and upwards"; also in line 13 by striking out at the beginning of said line the word "to" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "shall"; also in line 14 by inserting after the word "services" the words " to be"; also in line 15, by inserting after the word "expenses" the words "to be".

Amend section 2, line 21, by inserting after the word "marshals" the following: "desiring to retire and who have served continuously in office for a period of twenty years or more"; also in line 22, by striking out after the word "pension" the following: "to be computed monthly payable quarterly and not in excess of" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "not to exceed".

Amend section 4, page 3, line 1, by inserting after the word "Acts" the words " general local or special".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

RESOLUTION

COMMUNICATION

Mr. HOOPES sent to the desk a communication which was read by the Clerk as follows:

April 4, 1933.

To the House of Representatives and the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania

An address by unemployed citizens of the Commonwealth to the Members thereof

There are in the state of Pennsylvania on this date more than 1,300,000 entirely unemployed workers who together with nearly 900,000 part time unemployed whose income is below a subsistence level are or will be in a short time dependent upon relief aid from public agencies for life itself.

Wages and living standards built up at a great cost by organized labor are being undermined with fatal results to any hope for economic recovery, as no prosperity can be based on present starvation levels. Farmers are going bankrupt, workers are losing their homes.

Your Assembly, sirs, after fourteen weeks of session has failed to bring to the floor any proposal to seriously meet the needs of the working class, needs arising out of the above circumstances which have been thrust on willing and able workers through no fault of their own. Your action in appropriating a mere million dollars a month of State funds for unemployment relief for April and May has already been pilloried in the public press as a gross betrayal of your responsibility to the workers of Pennsylvania, ghastly cuts have already been made in the already inadequate relief terms by local relief administration authorities, who have no other choice due to your failure to provide. This and the other measure still pending in one of your Houses, under which this wealthy State of Pennsylvania, made wealthy by the labor of we the workers, seeks to evade the plain and solemn responsibility through appropriation of $20,000,000 for a period of two years to care for unemployed whose number will before long reach 2,000,000. This proposal is either an insult or a cruel jest and we bid you, our representatives, to be careful.

There are measures which have been introduced into the Pennsylvania General Assembly which will adequately care for the unemployment relief need, and the organized unemployed of Pennsylvania are before you this 4th day of April to petition solemnly that you at once consider and adopt the following measures

1. Constitutional Amendments for Old Age Pensions, House 65 and 67, now before the House of Representatives for action. This elementary justice to the aged worker must secure the approval of both Senate and House, and without delay.

2. A relief appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board of $200,000,000 for the biennium contained in House Bill 1530 now in the House Appropriations Committee which provides for cash minimum wage payment on all work relief.

3. The Anti-Eviction Bill, House No. 408, barring an eviction of the citizens victims of this depression from under the roof that protects them from the elements. This measure is in the House Committee on Judiciary Special.

4. Cash Payment of Relief under House Resolution No. 12. so instructing the State Emergency Relief Board. Now in Select House Committee on Unemployment Relief.

5. Immediate enfranchisement of the unemployed, excluded from the polls under the State Constitution requiring a State or county tax payment by passage of the House Bill No. 900 for a uniform 1c State poll tax, now in House Committee on Elections.

Members of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania. Your responsibility and your opportunity is clear. Act or abdicate.

Signed of officials of Unemployed Organizations in Pennsylvania.

Lincoln H. Steigerwalt, Chairman, Taxpayer's Protective League, Berks County.

Jack Bowen, Chairman, Dauphin County, Harrisburg, Pa.

Robert Flannery, Chairman, Pottsville, Pa.

Jesse Dixon, Executive, Pottsville, Pa.

Robert H. Davis, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' League, Shamokin, Pa.

Michael Demchak, Executive Secretary, Workers' Protective League, Mt. Carmel, Pa.

John Dougherty, Shamokin.

John Daniels, Unemployed League, Philadelphia.

William Skillen, Unemployed Citizen Union, Philadelphia.

Charles Sande, United Workers Council of Pennsylvania, Reading, Pa.

The SPEAKER. The communication will be noted in the Journal and printed in the Legislative Journal.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 354.

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 1, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 354, Printer's No. 232, entitled, "An Act to amend section five of article seventeen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred eighty-one) entitled 'An act for the better government of cities of the first class of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania' increasing the emergency borrowing power."

This bill would increase the emergency borrowing power of Philadelphia from two million dollars ($2,000,000) to five million dollars ($5,000,000), and would require the emergency loans to be paid either out of the revenues of the year in which the loans are made or out of the revenues of the succeeding year before the controller's books can be opened for the new year.

If approved, this bill would insure an annual five million dollar deficit for the city.

No responsible official of the city has asked me to approve this bill or given me any reason why its approval would be a benefit to the city and its taxpayers.

On the other hand, I have received many protests from taxpayers urging that the bill be vetoed. Among these are two from the Philadelphia Real Estate Board. That body, at a meeting attended by "representatives of the various business, trade and civic organizations of the City, the Board of City trusts, the local branch of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the local branch of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the various financial institutions of the City and the insurance companies as well as the members of this and other Real Estate Boards of the City," adopted a resolution calling upon me to veto this measure.

Among the reasons given is that "it increases the obligations of our City and her taxpayers and is directly counter to present day necessities."

In its second protest the Philadelphia Real Estate Board pointed out that this bill "would really be a permanent annual loan threatening an increase in the tax rate."

In addition, the bill is objectionable because it does not in any way limit the discretion of city council in declaring an emergency. If the bill specified that additional emergency powers might be exercised for providing money for unemployment relief or similar purposes, I should be disposed to approve it, notwithstanding the other objections I have mentioned. However, as it stands, it would merely postpone the financial housecleaning which must inevitably be made by Philadelphia and would lay still further burdens on the real estate taxpayers of that city.

I am unwilling to be a party to any bill which would impose further unnecessary hardships on local taxpayers.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

On the question,

Shall bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. GREENSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 948

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 4, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the House of Representatives and Senate, recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 948, Printer's No. 125, for the purpose of amendment.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1695 (Senate Bill No. 619), as follows:

An Act authorizing courts of common pleas to stay and adjourn the execution of certain writs in the hands of sheriffs ratifying confirming and validating the actions of courts in staying and adjourning the execution of such writs and of sheriffs in obeying orders and decrees of courts in accordance with a resolution of the General Assembly and dispensing with the necessity of re-advertising and re-posting such writs

Whereas The General Assembly by resolution duly adopted March eighth one thousand nine hundred and thrity-three authorized the several courts of common pleas to stay and adjourn until a date not later than Monday April third one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three the execution of certain writs in the hands of sheriffs because of the proclamation of the President of the United States restricting business transactions by financial institutions therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the several courts of common pleas of the several counties of this Commonwealth shall have power to stay and adourn until a date not later than Monday April third one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three the execution of all writs of fieri facias levari facias venditioni exponas and all other writs requiring the levy and seizure of lands and tenements or personal property now in the hands of sheriffs wherein the return day of said writ or writs is prior to Monday April third one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three and which writs under existing laws are required to be fully executed or returned before said date

The action of any court of common pleas of this Commonwealth in staying and adjourning the execution of any such writ or writs or in extending the return day of such writs or both prior to the passage of this act but subsequent to the adoption of the resolution referred to in the preamble hereof is hereby ratified confirmed and made valid in law and no such writ so stayed or adjourned shall hereafter be held to be invalid for the reason that the same was not fully executed in accordance with existing laws under which issued if such writ is fully executed on or before April third one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three in accordance with this act or said resolution referred to in the preamble hereof

Section 2 No such writ so stayed and adjourned in accordance with this act or said resolution which prior to such stay and adjournment had been advertised and posted in accordance with existing law shall be required to be re-advertised or re-posted but the original advertising and posting shall be deemed sufficient compliance with law to effectuate the lawful execution of such writ as provided by this act or said resolution

Section 3 The action of each sheriff of the several counties of this Commonwealth in staying and adjourning the execution of any writ or writs in accordance with any order of court made under the authority of the resolution referred to in the preamble hereof is hereby ratified confirmed and made valid in law and no sheriff of any county shall be held liable personally or on his bond for his actions in staying and adjourning the execution of any writ or writs in accordance with any such order of court if such writ or writs are fully executed on or before April third one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three as provided by this act or said resolution

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and conisderation of House Bill No. 1414, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 563), entitled, "An act regulating the operation of certain boats upon lakes wholly within the Commonwealth, by requiring the use of lights on all boats at certain hours"; eliminating the provision requiring boats and floats at rest to have lights thereon.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LEONARD P. KANE. Mr. Speaker, will the sponsor of this bill explain its purpose to the House?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wayne explain the purpose of this bill to the gentleman from Allegheny?

Mr. WALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill simply permits people that have boats who really cannot get them close to the shore to tie them up and it is not necessary to have lights either on the boats or on floats at night.

Mr. LEONARD P. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill will permit boats to lie at anchor at night on our inland lakes wihout any lights on them. Any one who is familiar with boating in inland waters knows that this would be a very dangerous procedure.

I, therefore, ask the members to think seriously before they vote on this measure.

Mr. WALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for the information of the gentleman this bill applies to lakes only, not to rivers.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER)

The SPEAKER. The hour of 5.00 P. M. having arrived, the Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 65.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and conisderation of House Bill No. 65, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section eighteen, article three of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill now before you appears on page 31, of the calendar, and is known as House Bill No. 65.

House Bill No. 65, is one of the Old Age Pension Bills. The bill is an amendment to the 18th Section of Article III, of the Pennsylvania Constitution. The 18th Section of Article III, provides that the Legislature shall not make appropriations for charitable purposes. That is the Constitution as it exists today. This bill provides an amendment, and the amendment says that the Legislature may by general law make appropriations for assistance to mothers for dependent children and to aged persons without adequate means of support. The amendment carries two features, mothers assistance and old age pensions.

The bill which is before you for voting is purely a referendum. You do not now by your vote say that old age pensions shall immediately exist. All you do when you vote here affirmatively is to say whether the people of Pennsylvania, who have confidence in you and who elected you, that you say to them that you have confidence in them to decide the issue of whether the Legislature shall have power to provide for an old age pension system in the future.

Now, I take it that under the bill it is irrelevant to argue whether old age pension is or is not a good system. I say that all I can argue to you is that you should have confidence in the people of Pennsylvania and let them decide the issue for themselves, as the law provies, and I ask for your affirmative vote.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, there seems to be quite a bit of misunderstanding in regard to this joint resolution. There are a great many people in Pennsylvania who believe this is not a proper time and it is not the part of wisdom to institute a system of old age pensions at this time, but that is not the question before the House. The only question before the House now is whether we will or will not give the people of Pennsylvania an opportunity to vote on this question, whether they want or do not want a system of old age pensions in Pennsylvania. It is not up to this Legislature, but it is up to a future Legislature and a future Governor to decide what that system shall be or whether there shall be a system of old age pensions at that time.

If we believe in democratic government, or republican government, whichever term you choose, if we believe in our system of American government, we must believe in the ability of the people to decide for themselves what they want and what they do not want, and that is all that this resolution does. Is simply submits the question to the voters of Pennsylvania to say whether or not they believe a system of old age pensions should be established in Pennsylvania. I have enough faith in the people of Pennsylvania and enough faith in any Legislature which may be elected in the future to leave his question to them. I have been here for eighteen years, and I say that on the whole the men that come here to this Legislature have always been men that use fairly good judgment, who use reason and deliberation, and whatever they may believe, whether they believe it is or is not the time for old age pensions, I believe we should permit the people of Pennsylvania a fair opportunity to say to their representatives, two, four or six years from now, what ever the time may be that is called for, say to their representatives, that they may, if they see fit, establish such a system. It is not for us to decide the old age pension matter, and the only question before us now is whether we trust the people and the future Legislatures and Governors to deal fairly with this question. Under our system of government we cannot very well take any other stand if we believe in our form of government, and I say we should give this privilege to the people of the Commonwealth and we should leave to the representatives and the Governor whom the people may elect in the future to decide whether or not we want such a system, or what kind of a system we do want.

I, therefore, ask you to vote for this resolution, because if we do not it will seem that we do not trust the people of Pennsylvania to decide for themselves whether they want or do not want such a piece of legislation.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there was some decided difficulty in getting this bill out of committee. There may be the same difficulty in committing the bill when it is presented to the Senate for their concurrence. I, therefore, request the members of this House to pass this measure with such an overwhelming vote that the Senate will feel that it is incumbent upon them when this bill is presented to them, to pass it and give the voters of Pennsylvania an opportunity to express their views on this very vital and humanitarian law.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I do not intend to make any very lengthy or detailed appeal to your good sense in asking for your affirmative vote on this measure that is before you now.

It is nothing unusual in the United States at the present that such a law should be passed. There are over twenty states that have already adopted this law, and I as a Pennsylvanian take a sincere and honest pride in saying that Pennsylvania in her history during the great period of her industrial development has been one of the leading states in passing social legislation. She may not be always the first by which the new is tried, but Pennsylvania has never been last to lay the old aside, and I appeal to you to give an overwhelming vote for the passage of this act, so that Pennsylvania will keep her place in the forefront of social legislation, and be there in fact as well as in name and title, the Keystone State.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

MOTION MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that a special order of business be made at 5.35 this afternoon of the motion to reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 22, Printer's No. 409, entitled

An Act to amend the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "Administrative Code of 1929" as amended repealing certain sections, abolishing certain administrative agencies, decreasing the salaries and compensation and limiting and decreasing the number of certain State officers and employes increasing the powers of the Auditor General, State Treasurer and the Secretary of the Internal Affairs and generally further reorganizing the and limiting the conduct of the administrative work of the Commonwealth.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER)

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 67.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 67, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section seven, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, the bill before you is House Resolution No. 67. The resolution provides for the accomplishment of the same purpose as the previous resolutions, except that the provisions of the one that was voted on, the Commonwealth is to pay for this, and the one before you now provides that the county and the Commonwealth may bear the burden jointly.

I know of nothing more to say. You are all familiar with the question, and I ask for your affirmative vote.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1476, entitled:

An Act providing for the deferring of sentences in certain cases pending the mental examination of defendants; authorizing trial judges and the Department of Welfare to require psychiatrists employed by county and state mental hospitals to examine certain such defendants without additional compensation except expenses payable by counties; providing for the commitment of defendants to certain institutions where the reports show the same to be advisable; and providing for the payment by individuals, counties, or the Commonwealth of the cost of admission, care and discharge of such defendants.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,
